FOR NEXT GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA

ADJT. GEN. D. H. HASTINGS,

Subject to the decision of the Republican State Convention.

Bootblack (to passing masher)—Say, mister! yer have a piece o' glass in yer eye.

Lo, the poor Indian! and the lower he is put the better, especially in the northwest regions.

THERE will be very little chance for any man to buy up the delegate from Jefferson county to the Republican convention.

THE original package law will not prove very popular to the masses, it i thought. "What is one man's meat is another man's poison."

Murderer Kemmler will probably be executed by electricity after all. The various lawyers who have spent so much time and ingenuity in providing Kemmler with a chance to die of old age will be awfully disappointed at the turn affairs have taken.

Hon. William L. Scott's voice is heard less frequently in piloting the Pattison boom just now than it was earlier in the season. It is suspected that the Erie statesman is sulking in his tent because his orders are not obeyed as cheerfully as he expected they would be.

Reports from the Northwest indicate clearly enough that the Cheyennes are not yet as good Indians as they might be. The civilizing and subduing influence of two or three regiments of cavalry is sadly needed among those obstreperous and misguided sons of the plains

Of course Grover Cleveland will send a nice letter on tariff reform to the Pennsylvania Democratic State Convention, even if he doesn't attend personally. Mr. Cleveland is not the man to miss such an opportunity to put in his thumb and pull out a plum, saying, "What a good boy am I!"

Wallace is smiling and confident while Pattison is confident and smiling, but Cousin Chauncey Black judiciously refuses to place either his smile or his confidence on exhibition. He sits back under the shade of his York County fig tree waiting for the two other fellows to play the political confidence game on each other. Then he may permit himself to indulge in a smile that can be heard from the Delaware to Lake Erie.

Pennsylvania stands pretty well up to the front just now. No other state can boast of any such interesting political situation covering both parties; the head of the West Point graduating class is a Pennsylvania boy, and both the New York League clubs were beaten in every game of base ball played here this week. We keep up a pretty good average all the time, but there is exceptional distinction at this time.—Press.

Cyrus W. Field who fier,'a Garfield's assassination, was chiefly instrumental in raising $4,00,000 for the benefit of the widow, has written some very indignant letters to friends in Washington complaining that he was not invited to the dedication of the Garfield monument. During the memorial exercises in the House of Representatives in 1882 he was the guest of honor and sat with the President and Cabinet. He thinks he should have received a similar distinction at the Cleveland ceremonies, but was entirely overlooked, although thousands of invitations were sent to others.

When an ex-convict wanted for burglary in New York saw a boy drowning he jumped in after him and brought him safely shore. The story of his heroic act giving his appearance attracted the attention of the police, who called to arrest him and found him in bed with his only suit of clothes hung out to dry from his ducking. He was willing enough to go with the police, but upon looking for his clothes they were found to be stolen and he was only put into shape to be taken to police headquarters by the gifts of the neighbors. The fates have been unusually hard on him. The man who would imperil his liberty and his life in order to save the life of another has considerable good about him and the authorities should be very lenient with him.

JUSTICE DONE DEPENDENT.

The Dependent Pension bill as it was passed Thursday by the House and will undoubtedly be passed by the Senate, is without the chief amendment made by the House, giving pensions to all who served in the war over 62 years of age. It also concedes to the House the lesser details in which the lower chamber differed from the upper. The bill remains a disability bill and does not introduce in our pension system the new principle of a service pension for those over a certain age; but it is more liberal as it leaves the conference committee than as it passed the Senate.

The measure as it was reported yesterday adds to the number of three classes on the pension rolls—dependent parents of soldiers, their widows and minor children, and it creates a new class of pensioners—soldiers who, for any cause since the war, but through no fault of their own, have become dependent. The pension rolls now carry 34,479 dependent fathers and mothers; but none are there unless the loss of a son was directly due to the war. The bill reported yesterday will add to the number of these dependent parents on the roll by requiring in future that where the legal proof of dependence and the absence of a widow or minor children exist, it shall only be necessary to add to this evidence that such parent has no means of support. How large a number of persons this will add no one knows; but as the rate of mortality in this class is very high, it is not believed that the additions will do more than maintain the present number, which is about 10 per cent. of the total of pensioners.

At present widows and minor children under 16 received pensions when the death of a husband and father can be proved due to the war. Death from any cause, under the bill, will entitle a widow dependent on her manual labor to a pension of $12 a month in future, and children under 15 to one of $2. At least 75,000 widows, costing $10,800 annually will be added by this clause. This estimate only includes claims already on file in the Pension Office, and the bill only applies to widows married before this act is passed. A similar provision in regard to Revolutionary soldiers, without this proviso, led to the short and presumably happy marriage of many aged veterans at 80 and 90 with extremely young women, greatly swelling the ranks of pensioned Revolutionary widows and prolonging their pensions to the present time. As the pension now proposed is limited to widows with no support but their manual labor, the number is not likely to be excessive. At present 28,000 children are on the roll and the bill is expected to add one half to this number.

The Senate in its original bill in dealing with dependent soldiers limited the offer of a pension to those unable to earn their living and dependent upon their daily labor for their support, or receiving it from those not legally bound to provide it. This clause is struck out of the bills as it came from conference. Any soldier unable to earn a support by manual labor is saved from dependence and is awarded from $6 to $12 a month, proportioned to the inability, a compromise of the Senate and House rates—the former putting the pension at $12 and the House at $8 a month. At present about 25,000 soldiers are dependent upon public charity. About 75,000 soldiers—or 10 per cent of those not now receiving pensions—will be found to be disabled and unable to earn a living by manual labor. There is also a large class of soldiers now receiving less than $6 or $12 a month. In all, these dependent soldiers at $12 would call for $21,300,000 annually.

Pensions for dependent soldiers were solemnly promised by the last National Republican Convention. The party was pledged to this measure, and Congress in passing it discharges a solemn obligation. At the same time, the increase of expenditure due to the bill, which will not be less than $30,000,000 and may be $40,000,000, brings a deficit in sight if Congress also passes the River and Harbor bill and the public building appropriations and makes no reductions in appropriation bills. As far as the House is concerned, all the surplus revenue for next year is voted away, and unless retrenchment is practiced in the Senate the consequences will be most serious.—Press.

THE press throughout the State seem to think that Dan'l's chances for to make the nomination are brighter than a good many care to have them. Even the Watchman now concedes him an even chance.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, June 16, 1890.

The President and his family leave to-morrow for Cape May where they have accepted a cottage from Post master General Wanamaker. Mr. Harrison will return in a few days but Mrs. Harrisen and the rest of the family will not return for several months. During the warm weather the President will pay them weekly visits and spend as much time with them as his duties here will permit.

Representative Vaux, the picturesque successor to the late Hon. Samuel J. Randall in the House, made his maiden speech Saturday. It was a eulogy of Mr. Randall.

Speaker Reed says he is not a candidate for President, but that does not stop the rapidly increasing sentiment among republicans that he possesses all the necessary elements of a successful Presidential candidate nor does it prevent many shrewd and long headed men from predicting his nomination and election in 1892.

The civil service committee of the House has at last made its report upon the investigation of the charges against the civil service commission. The report exonerates Commissioner Roosevelt and Thompson and makes Comsioner Lyman the scape goat. It is thought here that Mr. Lyman will feel compelled to tender his resignation to the President, and there isn't the slightest doubt of its prompt acceptance. No one believes that Mr, Lyman has wilfully done any wrong, but by his lack of tact and judgment he has shown that he is out of place on the commission. Campbell, the brother-in-law of Lyman, and the man who stole the questions which were offered for sale, has already resigned.

Secretary Noble has announced that no person will be allowed to settle upon the Cherokee lands until the agreement by which they have been ceded to the Government, shall have been ratified by Congress.

Senator Evarts from the Senate Library committee has reported a bill appropriating $20,000 to buy the manuscripts and correspondence of Thomas Jefferson which are now in the possession of his descendants.

The Senate Committee on Commerce has, by additions, raised the amount appropriated by the River and Harbor bill since it passed the House, to $25,000. The bill will be reported to the Senate this week.

The Senate Finance committee expects to report the McKinley tariff bill to the Senate this week, unless the democratic members of the committee shall wilfully delay the consideration of the several schedules of the bill which have been turned over to them as fast as the republicans completed them.

Pursuant to instruction of the House republican caucus the Lodge and the Rowell Federal election bill have been merged into one, with some modifications in both, and to-night the consolidated bill will be submitted to another caucus which will finally decide whether it shall be passed at this session.

General debate on the Jones silver bill in the Senate was closed this afternoon, and the House bill, as amended by the Senate Finance committee, was substituted therefor.

The Senate and Sub-committee which is investigating the Fish Commission has already taken some very interesting testimony going to show that Commissioner McDonald has used the clerical force of the bureau on his private work and that besides putting several members of his family into lucrative positions, he has made a practice of using the boats and oars owned by the commission to carry pleasure parties composed of his family and friends.

Last week the President found it necessary to veto another bill providing for the erection of a useless public building.

The democratic press now has it that Mr. Blaine and Speaker Reed are jealous of each other and that each of them is trying to shipwreck the political bark of the other. This is simply summer twaddle, both Mr. Blaine and Mr. Reed are too big and too sensible to be troubled with that disease of small minds known as envy or jealousy. While they may not be in perfect accord on all the subjects of the day, there is no ill-will or hard feeling in the honest difference of opinion existing between them, and such stories are told by democratic papers because their party fears these two men and would like to see them out of the way.

Senator Sherman has introduced in the Senate the same bill, for the incorporation of the Pan American bank, which representative Hill recently introduced in the House.

THAT DECISION.

It would be difficult to mention a decision by the highest tribunal in the land that caused the embarrassment, not to say harm, that has followed the "Original Package" decision. It is not strange, therefore that the Chief Justice and those members of the Court who agreed with him, should be not a little exercised about the consequences of their action, and will seek as early an occasion as possible to repair the mischief resulting from obscurity of meaning, possibly error of judgment. No part of the mischief is so hurtful as that the Supreme Court should suffer from a want of confidence in its decisions by any considerable portion of the people. In Congress a number of bills have been brought forward designed to "head off" the Court, not one of which seems to serve the purpose. That such a purpose should ever exist is by no means cause for rejoicing. The slightest appearance of a conflict between the Legislative and the Judicial branches of the Government is something to regret. Other than perfect obedience to the decisions of the Supreme Court is greatly to be deplored. That there has not been this spirit as regards the Original Package decisions is undeniable. That Congress should ever be inclined to "head off" the Court, or that the Court itself should feel called upon to explain or reverse its own decision is not less unfortunate, because all such proceedings tend to weaken the respect that should ever exist for that tribunal. In Congress, as the matter has been discussed, there has been developed much diversity of opinion among those who would reach the same end as to the way to do it.

As the case stands there appears to be a necessity for further expression from the Court, which cannot be, however—unless an extra meeting is called—for some months yet. This state of things does not tend to cause the country to feel satisfied with the working of machinery in the Government which everyone wishes to believe is as nearly perfect as human agencies ever can be.

IT is hard to conceive the self importance of some newspapers. Our Meadville contemporary, the Tribune Republican, recently published a few line paragragh in which it says that "the persistent and impudent assertions of bigoted partisans that their particular favorite is the one candidate above all others who can 'lead the Republican host to victory,' may be considered good politics by the thoughtless, but to the conservative and intelligent voter such utterances have a contrary effect," and then in an adjoining column prints seven stickfuls of stuff trying to demonstrate that Delamater is the "one candidate above all others."

WHAT's the matter between the sensible census and Mrs. Martha Gray, of Virginia, and her thirty-seven children born since 1868? The record of Mrs. Gray, who now lives with her third husband, is as follows:

Triplets, 6 times	18
Twins, 6 times	12
Singles, 7 times	7
Total	37

If Colonel John Census Enumerator kicks against his duty in tallying the Gray family he ought to be bounced.

PRESIDENT HARRISON has no mean idea of the "eternal fitness of things." This is plainly demonstrated in the whole some veto he put on the bill making an appropriation of $40,000 for a public building at Tuscaloosa, Alabama. All the public officials at that place are the postmaster and his two clerks.

A DISPATCH dated Manitou, Colorado, June 6, says: "Tuesday, June 4, it snowed hard on Pike's Peak, and then grew intensely cold, the thermometer marking 8° below zero. Notwithstanding this a party of fourteen ladies and gentlemen started for the artic region on horseback, with the express purpose of discovering the tip top.

The State Campaign.

The primary elections held in three counties yesterday practically complete the choice of delegates to the Republican State Convention to be held in ten days hence. There is a single delegate yet to be chosen for Jefferson county Of the 203 delegates now elected only about one-half have been chosen on the direct issue of Governorship or under instructions, and these are divided among half a dozen candidates. Comparatively few delegates are under positive instructions, but a number have been elected as the result of contests and an expression of popular preference which amounts to instructions.

The nomination will be determined by the action of those delegates who are free from these influences, having been elected before the lines were drawn on the candidates. Only the preference of a few of these are known and, it may be safe to assert, that the way the majority of these uninstructed will vote, when the time comes to cast his ballot, will not be known until the crisis is at hand. The most of these delegates were elected without pledges and are free to act as shall seem to them most advisable.

It will not be forgotten by any one interested in the animated struggle for the nomination that it is a contest among Republicans. When it is over we should all be in a position to unite against the common enemy. The importance of this has never been lost sight of by the candidates themselves. Here and there the vigor of local contention has stirred up some bitterness, but any attempt to draw the candidates themselves into it has properly failed, and all feeling has generally been removed as soon as the local contest was decided. It is an entirely honorable ambition to want to be Governor of Pennsylvania, and it is any man's right to enter the field. The honorable, manly and upright canvass which has been conducted by the several candidates has done the party no harm. The nemination of either candidate will receive the cordial support of all the others.

The exercise of wise judgment in the convention is of the utmost importance. The strength and popularity of the State ticket will have a direct influence upon the result on Congressmen and members of the Legislature in many of the districts. It is not a question of the candidacy of this man or that; it is the interest of the Republican party and what it represents that must command the attention of all. In the present condition the convention is a free one for all, and while any one may guess at the result he would as likely guess wrong as right.

It Reached Centre County.

S. Q. Mingle, of Williamsport, Pa., was the man who owned the Pennsylvania tax titles. The company agreed to take the lands for $6,000 and asked Mingle to get them have the deeds for submission to their attorney. Mingle gave up the deeds, which were already signed, but in which the name of the purchaser was blank. After being put off by the company from day to day for awhile, Mingle smelled a rat, and soon found out that deeds for his 6,000 acres had been put on file in Bellefonte, and that a mortgage was already recorded against them. Mingle hired a lawyer and began proceedings for fraud. It was discovered that the blank deeds which Mingle had given up had been filled in with the name of a Mr. Van Vechten, of New Jersey, and that Van Vechten had transferred the property to the investment company, which thereupon posed as an innocent third party, and defied all efforts to dislodge it. Mingle had the satisfaction, however, of keeping one officer of the company in Dudlow street jail for three months.

Meantime the investment company failed to pay taxes on the land, and two years ago it was again sold for taxes.

Mingle was told, after he began suit against the company, that $8,000 had really been given by the company to Gray with which to pay for the land, and that Gray, after getting the deeds, had pocketed the money and had a big spree on it. This was never confirmed.

Important Notice.

The DAILY NEWS, desires the names of one dozen men who expect to go to Harrisburg to attend the convention next week, but who do not intend going as members of the Hastings Club. Send in your names, it will be to your advantage.

We are sorry for our Meadville brother, the editor of the Tribune Republican. We see it stated to day that he is shortly to change his residence to Warren.

A call has been issued in Williamsport for all ex-prisoners of war to meet some time during this week for the purpose of signing papers urging the passage of a bill by Congress granting them a pension, and a per diem allowance while confined.

STICK TO WHAT YOU KNOW.

Seek to do What You Can, Not Always What You Like.

There lives in the City of New York a man who has accumulated quite a fortune by simply advising people what to do. There always will be a large number of persons who are unable to rely upon their own judgment; others come to a conclusion with ease and certainty.

A young man had accumulated a thousand dollars and debating whether he should buy a small candy store with it or whether he should lend it on mortgage. This latter he knew was the secure way. The other promised great profits. In this perplexity he saw an advertisement: "Advice given to those going into business."

After stating his case the counsellor said:

"My fee will be $5 in advance."

When this was paid he asked:

"Do you understand the candy business?"

"No; I did not think it was necessary. I expect to supervise it merely."

"Then you will lose all your money in three months."

"You think I had better lend the money on the mortgage?"

"I do not say that. What is your business?" That is, what do you perfectly understand?"

"I know the pickle business through and through. I can make pickles of all kinds, but I do not like it."

"Never mind what you like. Go and get a small place and make pickles; go from hotel to hotel, restaurant to restaurant and sell them. In ten years come back and see me; you will have $10,000 at least."

As the young man was going away he was called back;

"Here is a card; I want you to put it where you can see it a hundred times a day." These were the words on the card: "Business is business. Men don't do what they like, they do what they can."

The card had a strange fascination for him; he read it with care as he walked along the street. As he studied it new light seemed to enter his mind.

He found a dingy basement, and began to arrange for his operations. Of course vinegar must be got, several barrels of it; some was offered him at ten cents. "Which shall I take?" He thought of the words on his card. He seemed to see people testing his pickles, and, not liking them depart without buying. "They will know good vinegar," thought he, and so he bought the honest stuff.

In a few days several tubs of materials were ready, and he knew he must market them. Now he greatly dreaded to face strange people, and push his goods upon their notice. He never had courage when a boy, and now as a young man he felt more timid, it seemed. But he thought of the words on the card, and entered a restaurant. The evident manager was a blooming young woman, and the pickle dealer was more afraid of women than men. But "business is business" repeated itself over and over in his mind.

The answer to his statement was that his pickles would be tried, and if found all right would be purchased.

"Glad I got that good vinegar," thought the young man, and he began to think there was a certain power in the maxim his adviser had given. He began to feel a courage he had never expected in meeting people and trying to sell his goods to them.

Calling at a store to get, if possible, an order for pickles in bottles, he was quickly and rudely met with, "Don't want to see any such stuff. Noticing the utter dismay on the young man's face, the merchant said, short and sharp; "Don't you know enough of business to put up your goods attractively?"

As he retreated, ruffled and disheartened the maxim repeated itself over and over with this additional sentence: "Its business to put up goods attractively." He sought out a lithographer, and had some handsomely colored labels printed.

"They will buy the bottles," said a friend, 'just for the pictures you have on them."

When he had gained sufficient courage he sought out again the merchant who had rebuffed him. "I have come to make you a present of a bottle of fine pickles."

Why do you make me a present of them?

Because you gave me advice that is worth a great deal.

The morning of one Fourth of July come, and he pondered whether to go to his store or not. All at once he thought, people going on picnics will want pickles; it was the magic words on the little card that ran through his mind. He found, as he had thought, a large number of buyers waiting for him.

The little card was consulted in all sorts of weather. If a man made a proposition to him of any kind, and he was in doubt, he would go and look at the words, as though he knew them by heart already. One day a cheese merchant came to persuade him to buy his stock.

"People," said he, "who buy pickles always buy cheese; you will soon do a big trade." It was a temptation. He went and looked at the words, and studied intently, trying to think out their application to the case at hand. "Men do what they can," he reflected. I would like to sell cheese, but I know I can sell pickles," then he returned. Now he was resolute and firm, although by nature easily bent and swayed by the words of others.

"Business is business," he said. "I am in the pickle business; if I cannot make money in this I shall quit and go into something else, but I will not have two kinds on my hands."

It was a turning point, after this he could refuse all influence to go into something that seemed at the time to be more lucrative. He was not only industrious, it is plain, he had a fixed principle of action. Of course he was successful; all men who put industry and mind to their work are bound to be successful. When the ten years were up of course he had the ten thousand dollars and more too.

Warmth and Cleanliness.

Warmth is very important for the aged; exposure to the chills should be scrupulously avoided. Bronchitis is the malady most to be feared, and its attacks are very easily provoked. Many old people suffer from more or less cough, and this symptom may recur year after year and be almost unheeded. At last perhaps a few minutes exposure to a cold wind increases the irritation in the lungs, the cough becomes worse and the difficulty of breathing increases until suffocation terminates in death. To obviate such risk the skin should be carefully protected by warm flannel clothes, the out-door thermometer should be noticed and winter garments should always be at hand. In cold weather the lungs should be protected by breathing through the nose as much as possible, and by wearing a light woolen or silken muffler over the mouth. The temperature of the sitting and bed-rooms is another point which requires attention. Some old people pride themselves on never having fire in their bed rooms. It is, however, a risky practice to exchange a temperature of 65 or 70 degrees for one 15 or 20 degrees lower. As a general rule, for persons 65 years of age and upward, the temperature of the room should not be below 60 degrees, and when there are symptoms of bronchitis it should be raised five to ten degrees higher. Careful cleansing of the skin is the last point which needs to be mentioned in an article like the present. Attention to cleanliness is decidedly conducive to longevity, and we may congratulate ourselves on the general improvement in our habits in this respect. Frequent washing with warm water is very advantageous for old people, in whom the skin is only too apt to become hard and dry; and the benefit will be increased if the ablutions be succeeded by friction with coarse flannel or linen gloves, or with a flesh-brush. Every part of the skin should thus be washed and rubbed daily. The friction removes worn-out particles of the skin, and the exercise promotes warmth and excites perspiration. Too much attention can hardly be paid to the state of the skin; the comfort of the aged is greatly dependent upon the proper discharge of its functions.—Selected.

Electricity Direct From Heat!

Harry Cox, a young man of Cincinnati, has created quite a stir in scientific circles by announcing that he has discovered a method of producing a working current of electricity of any desired power directly from heat, thus obviating the use of a boiler or dynamo or any of the costly and intricate machinery now used for that purpose. Young Cox is backed by a company with a capital of $1,000,000, and has arranged to put his wonderful discovery into practical operation. The discovery is said to produce electricity directly from heat as readily as steam from water. Cox was for a time messenger boy in the telegraphic department of the Little Miami railroad, and is an expert telegrapher.

A PROCLATION.

In view of the fact that the name of our distinguished townsman, Gen. D. H. Hastings, will be presented to the State Convention which meets in Harrisburg on Wednesday, June 25th, 1890, as a candidate for the nomination for Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, and, thinking it but right that some effort should be made by the citizens of Bellefonte to show that the honor we hope and believe is about to be conferred upon a citizen of our town is appreciated, and also to do whatever is possible to further assist in bringing about the desired result, it has been decided to form a "Hastings Club" for the purpose of attending the State Convention as an organization. The neighboring counties of Huntingdon, Blair, Clearfield and Clinton, all of whose delegates will support Gen. Hastings, are cordially invited to join with us. A large club room has been secured in a convenient location in Harrisburg which will be kept open as Club Headquarters during the days of the convention. All Hastings Clubs are invited to meet there for organization, etc. A low special rate has been secured from all points on the Pennsylvania Railroad. Correspondence is solicited from the above named counties in order that details may be arranged and plans of organization perfected. A special train will leave Bellefonte at 5.35 o'clock on Tuesday morning June 24th, and will go via Tyrone to Harrisburg reaching that point at 10.30 a. m. A LADY'S PERFECT COMPANION.

PAINLESS CHILDBIRTH, a new book by Dr. John H. Dye, one of New York's most skillful physicians, shows that pain is not necessary in Childberth, but results from causes easily understood and overcome. It clearly proves that any woman may become a mother without suffering any pain whatever. It also tells how to overcome and prevent morning sickness-swelled limbs, and all other evils attending pregnancy. It is reliable and highly endorsed by physicians every where as the wife's true private companion. Cut this out: it will save you great pain, and possibly your life. Flossie is six years old.—"Mamma," she asked one day, "If I get married will I have to have a husband like pa?"

"Yes," replied the mother, with an amused smile.

"And if I don't get married will I have to be an old maid like Aunt Kate?"

"Yes."

"Mamma"—after a pause—"it's a tough world for us women, aint I?"

A traveller is about leaving a hotel.

"Well, landlord, here's a pretty how-d'ye-do; you go and charge me $2.50 for a bed, when you know the house was so full I had to sleep on a billard-table."

"Well, sir; please look at our rules posted up on the wall there—'Use of billard-table 25 cents an hour."

Johnnie—Pop, are you going to send our chickens away with us?

Father—Not that I know of. Why?

Johnnie—'Cause I heard you say the other night that as soon as the old hen got away you were going to make things hum around this coop.

Weak Women,

The more sensitive nature of the feminine sex renders women much more susceptible than men to those numerous ills which spring from lack of harmony in the system. The nervous system gives way, sick headache is frequent, the appetite is lost, and other ailments peculiar to the sex cause great suffering. Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiarly adapted for such cases, and has received the most gratifying praise for the relief it has afforded thousands of women whose very existence before taking it was only misery. It strengthens the nerves, cures sick headache and indigestion, purifies and vitalizes the blood, and gives regular and healthy action to every organ in the body. j 5-m.

A Haunted House.

This body of ours has been likened to a tenement. It often has a haunted apartment—the stomach, Scared by the eldrich sprite, dyspepsia, digestion flies and refuse to return. What can break the spell, what can raise the ban laid upon the unhappy organs? We answer unhesitatingly Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and we are warranted in the responce by the reccorded testimony of myraids, covering a period of over a third of a century. A course of the Bitters, begun in any stage of the affliction, and presistently followed, will terminate in cure positive, not partial. The Bitters restore tone to the epigastric nerve, renews and purifies the juices exuding from the cellular tissue that act upon the food digestively, expels bile from the stomach and the blood, and promotes a regular habit of body. Malaria, kidney complaint, nervousness, rheumatism and neuralgia give way to headache. J1 6

BONNER.

All persons interested in improving the blood of their horses should all at the stables of Isaac Haupt and see the trottingbred horse Bonner His proprietors intend to have him kept for service. The pedigree of this horse as authentically traced is as follows:

The sire of Bonner was by Knickerbocker, whose sire was Rysdeckes Hambletonian, and the dam of Bonner's sire was a Messenger horse. The dam of Bonner was a Vermont Morgan whose dam was a Starr mare.

These horses are all world renowned as every intelligent horseman knows. The dam of Bonner trotted in 2.40 at the age of 22 years, and she was rulled off the track,

This horse has always been kept for service. And without being trained he trotted in 2.58 and competent judges declare that if properly handled he would now be trotting in the teens.

Bonner is a mahogony bay, will be 9 years old in May, and weighs 1000 lbs. He has bred colts that weigh 1400 lbs. and he has lighter offspring that are very promising for roading and for speed. f-20-3m

GENTLEMEN, March 20th 1890.
ISAAC HAUPT, AGETT.

Dear Sir—Yours of the 15inst received and contents duly noted. The colt you alluded to—"Grover Cleveland," by name—was bred from Bonner and a blooded Hambletonian mare. Color, Black. When two years old he weighed 1000 pounds he is now five years old.

He stands 15¼ hands high in his bare feet this morning and weighs about 1200 pounds. When he was three years old he trotted in 2.50. I intend to have him kept for service this season. I worked him right along since he was two years old. He is perfect built horse in every particular and a square stepper. Can be bought, before the season opens, for five hundred dollars cash and not a dollar less.

Very respectfully yours,
D. O. BOWER

P. S. The Agent Isaac Haudt would be glad to quote terms to all at any time, needing the service of that Horse.

The Value of Pure Wine in Sickness

The chief difficulty with reliable wines has been their scarcity and richness in body, but this has been removed by the introduction of a pure native wine, produced by Mr. A. Speer of New Jersey. He has submitted his wine to the test of many celebrated physicians and chemists, and all concur in its purity, rich medical properties, and superiority to all Port Wines. Most of them prescribe it in cases of debility, affections of the kidneys and chronic complaints, requiring a tonic, suporific or diuretic treatment.

How often we hear middle-aged people say regarding that reliable old cough remedy, N. H. Downs' Elixir: "Why, my mother gave it to me when I was a child, and I use it in my family; it always cures." It is always guaranteed to cure or money refunded.

YEARLY SCHOOL REPORT.

Principal D. M. Lieb Submits his Report to the Board of Education—The Full Text is as Follows:

BELLEFONTE, PA., June 10, 1890.

To the Board of Education
Bellefonte District.

GENTLEMEN:—

In referring to the records of the past school year the largest enrollment at any time is found to be 752 pupils, and the total enrollment for the year 771 pupils, divided between the sexes as follows: Boys, 382; girls, 389. This equality of the sexes is one of the most gratifying features connected with our schools, for in most places the excess of girls enrolled is very large.

Whilst several causes bring about this result the strongest factor, undoubtedly, is the force of parental control. For observation has shown that where boys leave school from indifference and lack of desire to improve the advantages offered them, in such instances the character has been weakened through bad association or vicious habits, such as loafing on the streets and in billiard rooms, smoking cigarettes, and reading sensational literature, all of which could be checked by the exercise of parental authority.

HIGH SCHOOL.

The success attending the graduating exercises of the High School is more encouraging to pupils and teachers. A pleasing feature has been the absence of presents and flowers, needless extravagancesthat has marred the peace of many schools and communities, and called for vigorous measures on the part of the School Board to check. It is a question which the patrons of the school must decide whether there is not a tendency toward needless expense in dress, and for which succeeding classes must decide whether the class supper is a necessary or even desirable part of the graduating programme.

The record of the classes of the High School is excellent. Beginning with the class of '84, numbering 4 members, the school has sent out seven regular classes, of which the class of '90, numbering 16, is the largest. During this period there has been a regular advance in the course of study and the qualifications of the graduates. These now number 58, of whom 28 are young men and 30 young women.

The fact that all of these persons are leading useful and honorable lives is pleasing to those who taught them, but the great recompense for faithful service is found in the fact that one-third of those, regularly completing the course of study, found in it such incentive as led them on to institutions of a higher grade. To-day the Normal schools of Millersville and West Chester and such Colleges as Pennsylvania State, Dickinson, Franklin & Marshall, and Princeton, and such Universities as Lehigh, and Michigan, and the U. S. Naval Academy, number boys and girls of the Bellefonte High School on the list of their graduate or undergraduate students.

Of those who sought in a higher institution broader culture for the mind, no one had better purposes than Jennie M. Shortlidge, in whose death, occurring February 20th, 1890, the High School Alumni met with its first loss. To her teachers and schoolmates there will ever remain the cherished memory of one fully possessed of "the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is, in the sight of God, of great price."

THE GRADED SCHOOLS.

The work of instruction in the graded schools went on despite the interference of unusual sickness, both of teachers and scholars and, judged by result at examination, have not retrograded in either quantity or quality of work. Whilst considering the interference of sickness, perhaps in forecasting results we forgot that the mild weather that prevailed through the year compensated for time lost by illness in permitting greater regularity during the whole year.

The branch of writing in the schools enjoyed an unusual incentive in the pens, ink and practice paper furnished by the Board. And supplementary reading furnished in all the grades not only gave new interest to this useful study, but in the Third and Fourth reader grades in the historical readers there used, an easy introduction to the study of history was made, which I am sure will advance the standard of our work in this important branch.

Not the least desirable result from the readers is the hearty interest the pupils take in their lessons. To complete our venture in this line we should add, during the next year, geographical readers and natural history readers, and thus, through the reading exercises, give preparation for important studies in higher grades and also drills in reading. For you will understand that in these readers the teacher, in addition to instructing in reading, gives incidental instructions in geography, history, and natural history, and then questions the pupil on the facts read or imparted to them, so that all the time a double purpose is fulfilled.

TEACHERS' MEETINGS.

During the year a meeting of the teachers was maintained. Its results were never bad, but good—only to those who labored. The Board might add some stimulus by requesting the County Superintendent to examine all our teachers yearly and make such books as they studied in these meetings the basis for examination in that particular branch. Better, perhaps, if the Board passed a resolution urging our teachers to take advantage of the Summer School of Methods in Altoona in August next.

If they did so, they would return with such an incentive for self improvement that our corps of teachers at least would nullify the statement that "Teachers, of all professional persons, are the hardest to interest in their improvement.

BUILDINGS.

The new building is complete, or as nearly so as we could desire. As an attraction to the High School room a tint applied to the walls and ceiling would be proper, and at the same time the breaks in the plastering, due to the settling of the building, might be filled.

The attention of the Board is urgently called to the stone building. Built in 1869, its inside woodwork to date has been ignorant of fresh paint, and now loosened and dried out by steam heat and worn and dimmed by hard cleaning its surface is dingy and dirty and in striking contrast to the cleanly and neatly dressed children who attend there.

In renewing the building the unsightly structure in its rear might be removed, for its not being returned as a nuisance is due rather to the forebearance of the good people living near, than to the absence of a just cause.

The need of a room on the second floor of this building, adapted in some degree to the purpose of assembling the schools for entertainment or general exercises, would suggest the propriety of removing the partition between the two rear rooms, thus throwing them into one. In this room have the combined grammar schools, with two teachers, for one of whom a class room could be provided in the room on the south side of the building.

SPECIAL.

It is with great regret that the retirement of Prof. D. O. Etters and Miss Lizzie Shortlidge from our corps of teachers is noted. Their record as careful, faithful, painstaking teachers is too well known to need any encomium. As teachers they possessed naturally the ability to govern, and in winning the regard of their pupils fulfilled that saying of the Greek poet.

"A people always loves its ruler best,
When it is neither humored nor oppressed."

Finally, I desire to thank you as man for the courtesy and consideration with which you have viewed my efforts to advance the educational interests of this community, and trust that with God's blessing my labors have not been in vain.

Respectfully, D. M. LIEB,
Prin. of Schools.

An Important Decision.

The supreme Court last week made the long looked for decision in the Gaines and Brockerhoff case. The decision of Judge Krebs, of Clearfield was affirmed. The following is the record of the case:

Isaac Gaines vs. Margaret Brockerhoff, widow; Andrew J. Brockerhoff, Henry W. Brockerhoff, Mary C. Brockerhoff, heirs; and Margaret Brockerhoff and Andrew J. Brockerhoff, Administrators of Henry Brockerhoff, deceased. Bill in Equity praying the court that defendants be restrained by injunction from selling certain lands in Burnside township, Centre county, and Bradford township, Clearfield county, in all five tracts, and requiring defendants to make and deliver to plaintiff goods and sufficient deeds for same. In June, 1884, Joseph W. Parker, Esq., was appointed Master and Examiner in the case by the Court. In February 1885, Master's report was filed in favor of defendants. June 12, 1888, exceptions to Master's report were filed by plaintiff and argued before Judge Krebs, August 9th, 1888.

Judge Krebs filed his decree in substance as follows: That on or before 30 days defendants deliver a good and sufficient deed for certain tracts of land in Bradford township, Clearfield county, containing 20 acres. Also one-half of a certain tract in Burnside township, Centre county, containing 388 acres. Also another piece in Burnside township, Centre county, containing 386 acres. And that defendants pay or cause to be paid to Isaac Gaines the sum of $602 82, with interest from June 1st 1888, together with complainant's legal and reasonable costs, printing of bill and amendments, and cost of subpoening witnesses, Master's fees, &c. The defendants took an appeal carried the case to the Supreme Court where it was argued in 1889. Ever since that time both sides have anxiously awaited the decision which came down on Monday affirming Judge Kreb's decree. The amount involved is about $15,000—Watchman.

—The Millheim Journal says Andrew Weaver, of near Coburn, whose wife is serving a two year's sentence in the Western Penitentiary for the murder of her father-in-law, looks like a new man. He has a clean shaven face, wears a stand up collar a "Katy," and says he has better times now than he ever had since he was married to Fietta. It is an ill wind that blows nobody and good.

THE DEATH ANGEL.

A LOVING WIFE AND MOTHER PASSES FROM TIME TO ETERNITY.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. Abagail Margaret, wife of Mr. Chas. F. Cook, of the Centre County Bank, breathed her last at their residence on Spring street. About six weeks ago Mrs. Cook caught a severe cold and, notwithstanding the utmost caution and best medical skill that could be procured, the cold settled on her lungs and in a very few days the family and friends were appalled by the alarming fact that Mrs. Cook was a sufferer from that dread disease, consumption, and that of the worst type. Everything possible was done for the benefit of the sufferer but without avail. She grew rapidly worse—sinking day by day—until the evening of Tuesday, the 10th day of June, when the fatal disease had run its course, the tiny silver thread of life was snapped and the spirit of the loved wife and mother had passed beyond this vale of tears.

Mrs. Cook was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Rankin and a sister of W. B. Rankin. She was the mother of five children, all of whom are yet comparatively small and whom, with a sorrowful and grief-stricken husband are left to mourn their loss. Mrs. Cook was just 38 years, 1 month and two days old.

Mr. Claud Cook arrived home from Kansas and will be here to attend the funeral. Mr. John Rankin, a brother of deceased, and who is now in Castanea, Cal., will not be here, as it would be impossible for him to arrive in time for the funeral occured on Thursday afternoon at four o'clock from the residence on Spring Street. All the other friends live in this and adjoining counties.

Mrs. Cook was a lady well known in Bellefonte and beloved by all who knew her. Kind, loving and sympathetic, she won many friends to whom her premature death will come with a sadness and sorrow that death alone can bring. But there is a consolation that while parted from her dear presence here below, by following the precept and example of the departed a glorious reunion beyond the skies, where sorrow and tears never come, awaits the grief-stricken friends. We join with hosts of friends in extending our sympathy to the afflicted family.

DAVID I. PARSONS.

On Tuesday night the death angel visited another Bellefonte home. David I. Parsons died on that night of Brights Disease. He was about 44 years of age and leaves a wife and one child—a boy of about seventeen.

Millheim Murmurings.

Mr. D. C. Gingerich, who is doing business in Altoona, was home over Sunday and while here purchased a large horse for which he paid $150.

Mr. H. Grove, who moved from near Bellefonte to this place last spring, was so unfortunate as to be thrown out of a wagon a few days ago, receiving painful injuries. The accident occurred when Mr. Grove was driving down a hill and was caused by the brake flying loose frightening the horse which became unmanageable and ran away. Mr. G. was thrown out and the wagon passed over his body breaking one rib and otherwise injuring him.

Mr. W. E. Wise, of Mifflinburg, Pa., was in Millheim on Monday canvassing for a book.—A series of popular sermons by Dr. Talmage.

Dr. E. M. Miller was off to Selinsgrove and Sunbury on a vacation last week.

Howard Happenings.

Howard is still moving onward with all its enterprises. The greatest improvement is the work done on the street leading from the diamond to the railroad.

Mr. William Thomas and wife, who are keeping boarding house at the rolling mills, got two new boarders on Tuesday night. They are both boys and weigh ten pounds apiece. Beat that if you can.

The Children's Day exercises in the M. E. church on Sunday evening were grand. Wilber Hall, who conducted the exercises, deserves much credit for the success on that occasion. In fact, all who took part are deserving of much praise.

The census enumerator in Howard has not yet committed suicide but he is seriously considering that expediency provided he can't get the census supervisor to erase about half the questions.

Worm in the Grass.

Our farmers in this section are complaining lately of a worm that has been working on the grass and some think will not have as large hay crop. The worm is under the sod and cuts it loose from the earth, leaving the sod loose and easy to pull up. It works mostly at the roots of the grass, though some report it above ground, and doing devastation above.—Centre Reporter.

—The funeral of Mrs. Chas. F. Cook was held on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Wm. Laurie officiated, assisted by Rev's. Hoshour and Hughes. The following gentlemen acted as pallbearers: Messrs. H B Pontius, John Powers, H D Yerger, J F Mann, Hammon Sechler, James Potter, N S Bailey and J L Kurtz.

CUPID AGAIN.

On Wednesday evening at seven o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. Larrimer, aunt of the bride, Mr. Charles W. Tripple and Miss Lida L. Furey were united in the sacred bonds of matrimony. About 80 invited guests were assembled to witness the ceremony which was performed by Rev. Wm. Laurie, D. D., of the Presbyterian church. The wedding march was played by Mr Charles Cruse. Mr. Ed. B. Rankin was best man and Miss Bertha L. Haupt bridesmaid. Messrs. Chas. T. Noll, P Waddle, Henry Lyon and Frank Crosthwaite acted as ushers.

The bride was arrayed in a handsome dress of heliotrope surah silk, and wore a bouquet of cream carnations. The groom was dressed in a neat-fitting suit of the customary black. The bridesmaid was arrayed in a dress of cream mohair and wore a bunch of pink carnations. The best man looked becoming in a neat black suit. After the ceremony the usual congratulations followed after which a few minutes were spent in looking at the handsome array of choice presents, which included a silver water set, dozen silver fruit knives, silver spoons, knives and forks, fruit set, dishes, pictures, screens, and dozens of useful and ornamental articles.

Choice refreshment swere served, to which, it is needless to say, full justice was done, after which the wedding party was driven to the depot where they took the 9 o'clock train for the east. They will visit Philadelphia, Cape May and Atlantic City and New York ere they return home. Both the contracting parties are too well known in Bellefonte to need any words of introduction from us, hence we will join with their many friends in wishing them much happiness.

Among the guests present from a distance were the Misses McPherson, Miss Rilla Caldwell and Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Larimer, of Clearfield; Miss Kane of Tyrone; Miss Kane and Mrs. J. M. Furey of Lock Haven.

—A certain young editor of this town departed on Wednesday evening for some place west of this to attend a wedding, or something similar. Before boarding the train, which was already in waiting, he entered Anderson's restaurant, made a purchase, paid for it, laid his pocketbook down on the counter and deliberately walked out, across across the street and into the Bush House bar room. (Of course not for a drink but likely to see a friend.) In about 45 seconds out comes Mr. Editor, pale as a ghost, and makes a bee line for Anderson's, and—picks up his pocket book. The joy at the recovery of his property was too much for his weakened head and he fainted dead away and had to be carried to the depot.

—A brilliant reception was held on Wednesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. M. Hamilton, in Tyrone, in honor of the graduates of the class of '90 of Birmingham Mountain Seminary. Among the Bellefonters present were Mr. and Mrs. J A Aikens, Misses Stella Armor, Jennie Strickland, Lillie and Emma Aikens, and Messrs George B. Johnston, John Harris, Jr., Frank Lukenbach, Samuel Nevling, Chas. R. Kurtz, and Edgar L. Burnside. They had a delightful time.

—To the Renovo Evening News man: We do not want your photograph or the color of your hair—which we'll bet is red—but if you will meet us in Williamsport on the Fourth of July we will have satisfaction or never attend another picnic, now see if we don't.

"Hello! Hello!! Hello!!!"
"Well; what is it?"
"How is your mother, this morning?"
"Very much better; she had a real restful sleep last night: she is almost rid of her night-sweats, cough and nervousness, and is growing quite cheerful. How grateful we all are to you for that bottle of medicine."
"Don't speak of gratitude. What does the doctor say?"
"He says he never saw so wonderful a change in such a serious lung trouble. He still thinks we are giving his medicines. I don't like to tell him."
"That's right. He's an old friend, you know. I'm sure your mother will get well now; but you won't forget the name of the medicine, will you?"
"Never! Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery" are household words already, and it has come to stay. Do come and see what sunshine it has brought already, and let us thank you again for it."
"I will. Good bye."

The foregoing is a fair representation of a very common occurrence. "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured severe, lingering coughs and arrested Consumption, or Lung-scrofula, in thousands of cases after doctors have failed and other medicines have been tried and abandoned as useless. The "Discovery" is guaranteed to benefit or cure in every case, if taken in time and given a fair trial, or money will be refunded.

Five Generations in a Group.

A photographer of Lewisburg exhibits a photograph of a family group, recently taken by him, which represents five generations. The oldest person in the party is Mrs. Leah Raidabaugh, formerly of Lancaster county. She is now just 90 years old. The next is her son Adam, and then his son, George P. Raidabaugh. The latter was married in 1867 to Elizabeth Furman. To this couple was born in 1869, a daughter, Elita. In 1888 Elita married Robert Tipper, of Harrisburg. To them was born a baby girl, Ruth, now 14 months old. The old lady is still very active, and up to a short time ago took an active part in the household affairs.

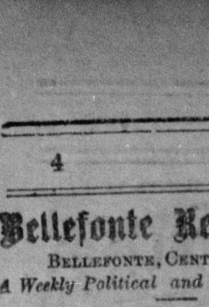
Two Notable Celebrations Before the Altar of Hymen.

MARY ANDERSON MARRIED;

Dressed in White Satin and Lace, Looking Divinely and Wreathed in Smiles, She Is Joined to Mr. Navarro. Miss Caldwell a Baroness.

LONDON, June 18.—Miss Anderson and Mr. Navarro were married at 11:10 Tuesday morning at the little Roman Catholic church of St. Mary's, Holly Place, Hampstead. Strenuous efforts were made up to the very last moment to keep the ceremony strictly private. Last night Miss Anderson herself decorated the altar, buying palms and white flowers from the poorest shops and families in the neighborhood. This morning the whole family attended mass at 8 o'clock and partook of the communion.



MARY ANDERSON.

Despite the secrecy sought to be maintained 500 people had squeezed themselves into the narrow lane that leads to the chapel, and crowded around the church door, making ingress and egress almost impossible. At 11 o'clock young Novarro arrived in a cab, and ten minutes later four closed carriages, containing the bride and guests, drove up.

ANTONIO NOVARRO.

Miss Anderson was dressed in white satin, trimmed with real lace and real orange blossoms. She looked divine-ly, and wreathed in smiles was the picture of happiness.

Absolutely none but the occupants of the carriages were admitted to the church, but the police had the greatest difficulty in keeping out the surging crowd.

Mr. Griffin led the bride to the altar. He was followed by Mrs. Griffin. The ceremony was performed by the rector, Canon Pursell, unattended by any assistant priests. The bride and groom knelt at the altar rails beneath an arch of palms. The canon then made a brief, impressive address, his words bringing tears to Miss Anderson's eyes and he himself showing signs of deep feeling.

After the celebration of low mass the organ played two wedding marches, and at a quarter past 12 the family drove back to Mr. Griffin's residence, where the wedding breakfast was eaten.

Mr. de Navarro handed Rector Pursell an honorarium of £500 at the conclusion of the ceremony.

On leaving the church "Our Mary" was loudly cheered.

Miss Caldwell a Baroness.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Miss Lina Caldwell became Baroness von Zedwitz shortly after 11 o'clock Tuesday in the chapel of the new cathedral university. Bishop Spaulding, of Peoria, Ills., performed the ceremony and afterward celebrated mass, in which the newly wedded pair joined.

MISS CALDWELL. BARON VON ZEDWITZ.

Cardinal Gibbons, Bishop Keane and other dignitaries of the Roman Catholic church were present.

It is an interesting fact connected with this marriage that the chapel was presented to the university by the bride, and her generosity is memorialized by a marble tablet set in the chancel wall. The altar is a beautiful piece of carving in white marble, and its donor was the first to pledge nuptial vows before it, as the building, which represents a cathedral in miniature with twelve side chapels, has just been completed.

A Quiet Affair.

There was not a large crowd present, as most of the invitations issued were verbal ones to the intimate friends of the bride, her sister and the groom. Miss Mary Caldwell, who made all the preparations for her sister's wedding, was very anxious that the affair should be as quiet as is consistent with an event of so much interest to the diplomatic world.

Immediately after the celebration of the mass which followed the ceremony the bride and groom drove to the Arlington, and at 1 o'clock received their friends and invited guests in the new salon of the hotel. The rooms were profusely decorated with roses, as becomes a June wedding, and the couple stood under a floral canopy to receive the congratulations of their friends.

A dainty wedding breakfast was served and the old fashioned custom of putting the wedding cake upon the table uncut was adhered to. At 3 o'clock the relatives of the bride and groom, the clergy and a very few friends sat down to a wedding dinner. Covers were laid for thirty.

The Bridal Tour.

Later in the afternoon began the long bridal journey. They go straight to Cincinnati and then to the City of Mexico, where the baron represents the German court. They will travel sumptuously in a private car, the one used by Patti during her last tour in this country.

Baron Zedwitz has achieved great popularity in Mexico, and his future advancement in diplomatic life is assured.

Among those who were present at the wedding were Mrs. Donnelly, Mrs. Edward C. Donnelly and Miss Donnelly, of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Slevin and the Misses Leary.

No Sugar Trust Decision Yet.

SARATOGA, June 18.—The sugar trust case was not mentioned in the list of decisions handed down in the court of appeals Tuesday morning.

THAT MYSTERIOUS DEATH.

If It Was Murder the Perpetrator Will Never Be Caught.

WAVERLY, N. Y., June 18.—The mystery surrounding the death of Isaac Deo, who was found in a cremated condition near here last Saturday, still remains unsolved. Deo was found in the woods about thirteen miles from here. His remains were in a terrible state, being burned to an unrecognizable mass. They had evidently been in this condition about three weeks before found.

Whether death was the result of suicide or murder is unknown. His relatives here think he was the victim of foul play, but the neighbors adhere to the suicide theory. Deo had a son and a daughter living here, and his wife with another son and daughter is somewhere in the west. She is Deo's second wife, and they did not live happily together.

He was not very welcome at the home of his son and son-in-law here, and for the past few years he has been a wanderer over the country and little better than a tramp. He was 77 years old and weighed about 200 pounds.

The coroner is trying to give an explanation of the affair further than the report of his jury, which rendered a verdict that Isaac Deo came to his death in some manner unknown. Chief of Police Brooks is also in the dark, though he holds to the suicide theory. If it was a murder, as his relatives allege, the murderer will never be brought to justice, because it will be an impossibility to place any direct proof upon any person who may be charged with it.

THEY'RE INDIANS NOW.

Three White Men Adopted Into the Ancient Seneca Tribe.

BUFFALO, June 18.—On the Cattaraugus reservation Monday three white men were adopted into the Seneca Indian nation, one of the most ancient in existence. They were James E. Kelly, of New York, who designed the Red Jacket monument; Mr. F. B. Converse, husband of Mrs. Harriet Maxwell Converse, of New York, who has long been a warm friend of the Indians, and who was herself adopted into the tribe in 1885. The third was a representative of The Buffalo Express.

Mr. Kelly received the name of Gan-nos-Qua, "The Stone Giant," in allusion to his work as a sculptor; Mr. Converse was named Ha-nai-No, "the Song Maker," in recognition of Mr. Converse's musical talent, the reporter was named Da-di-O-Gwat-Ta, "The Spreader of News." The ceremony was interspersed with speeches, war songs and marches. Pipes and tobacco were passed, and while all smoked President Andrew Johns made a speech calling on his people to try and live as the whites do. "I say this," he added, "because we all know that we have little land, and nowhere to go if we lose it. This I say to you, my people, to work well and learn to care for yourselves."

A Long Threatened Strike Begun.

BOSTON, June 18.—The long threatened strike of the building laborers of Boston, Cambridge and Somerville started Tuesday morning and involves about 2,500 men of the three cities, with a prospect of that number being increased by the bricklayers and others of the building trades. At a joint meeting of Laborers' Unions 10 and 6 Monday night it was unanimously voted to demand twenty-five cents per hour for nine hours' work. Letters were received from sixty-eight local unions of laborers throughout the United States and Canada, urging the Boston union to go into the fight, pledging financial support while the strike lasted. It was reported that of thirty-five employers who would be affected by the demand nearly one-third were in favor of granting what the men asked. At a meeting of the Bricklayers' union Monday night it was voted not to handle stock from non-union laborers.

Starved for a Fortnight and Died.

AUGUSTA, Me., June 18.—Guy Turner, who last January attempted suicide by shooting while insane regarding his accounts as city treasurer, died Tuesday morning at 4 o'clock. His wound had healed, but he died from brain trouble and starvation. He had latterly refused to eat, and for the past two weeks took an occasional glass of water. Turner had a crazy idea that he was a defaulter, though an examination showed his books to be honestly kept.

No Signs of an Outbreak.

CHEYENNE AGENCY, June 18.—The Indians are gathered at the reservation in two camps on Tongue river, the latter being under surveillance of the military, who report no signs of an outbreak. The country has been thoroughly patrolled. It is now the belief that another council will be held between a body of Cheyenne chiefs at Custer and Upshaw and Major Carroll, at which the Indians will be asked to explain their desires.

Fright Killed Her.

BUFFALO, June 18.—Mrs. Annie E. Mahoney, wife of ex-Comptroller Timothy J. Mahoney, died from heart disease, the fatal attack being brought on by fright during a runaway. Mrs. Mahoney was in her carriage in front of her residence when a runaway horse of Dr. Moseley's ran into her vehicle. Her horse started to run, but was caught before proceeding far. Mrs. Mahoney fainted, and died within fifteen minutes.

Ballot Reform Adopted.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 18.—The general assembly met in special session today by call of Governor Davis. In the house all attempted amendments to the municipal ballot reform law were voted down and the bill passed to be engrossed. The senate passed a resolution for a commission to secure from the general government the sum due the veterans of the Fourth regiment of Rhode Island.

ALL HOPE ABANDONED.

The Imprisoned Miners at Farm Hill Are All Doomed.

TWENTY-NINE IN THE PIT.

They Have, in All Probability, Been Suffocated or Roasted to Death Long Ere This—The Fire Is to Be Allowed to Burn Itself Out.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 18.—All hope of reaching the imprisoned men at the Farm Hill mine has been abandoned. All night long rescuing parties worked at the mouth of the manhole, but their efforts were fruitless. At 11 o'clock Tuesday morning the fire was burning with greater fury than ever and dense clouds of smoke were rising. The rescuers are unable to approach as near to the imprisoned men by 100 feet as they were Monday night. Efforts to reach the victims through adjoining mines had to be given up, because of impure air and water.

Superintendent Markey distinguished himself by crawling as close as 120 feet to the place where the men are supposed to be, but he heard nothing and narrowly escaped with his life.

Heartrending Scenes.

The scenes at the mouth of the mine are heartrending. New made widows wring their hands in grief too great for tears, and parents, children and sweethearts watch the hours go by in anguish. It has been found necessary to police the entrance, to prevent the agonized sufferers from rushing into the hole.

Tuesday morning it was decided that the only thing to be done is to brick up the opening and let the fire burn itself out. The loss by explosion cannot now be ascertained. It will be heavy, however, and the owners are fearful that the works will have to be abandoned. A fire damp explosion is a rarity in this region, and on that account, if for nothing else, the present disaster is all the more fearful.

Coroner Holbrook is on the ground, but refuses to hold an inquest on the two bodies recovered until all have been found.

There are still twenty-nine men in the pit, who have in all probability been suffocated or roasted before this.

Just inside the manhole, holding in his hand a flickering lamp, last night stood Father Malody with his prayer book in hand reading the prayers for the dying to the unseen unfortunates. He was not disturbed by the excited, earnest workmen, who rushed hither and thither in their endeavor to get at the lost.

The Doomed Men.

These are the names of the unfortunate missing miners: Joseph Brigner, married; Richard Brigner, Milt Ferney, married; Barney Moss, Peter Eagan, 44 years old; Robert McGuill, single; Martin Cavaner, John Cope, married; Andy Cope, his son; Pat Devlin, married; John Debanney, married; John Joy, married; John Debanney, Jr.; David Davis, married; Thomas Davis, his son; Pat Cahill, married; William Cahill, single; Pat Courtney, married; John Courtney, his son; Dan South, married; James Shearn, single; Danny Shearn, single; David Hayes, William Hayes, his son; James McCleary, married; Thomas McCleary, married; Elmer Dewey, single; Joseph Bigley, aged 30, leaves wife and two children; Barney Maust and Emanuel Maust (brothers) and John Mitchell, aged 40, married.

Committed to Prohibition.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 18.—The United Norwegian Lutheran church of America at its session here took a firm stand on the question of temperance by adopting a series of resolutions couched in the strongest sort of language committing the church as a whole to the Prohibition cause. This action is considered remarkable, as the Scandinavian and other foreign elements have been regarded as opposed to Prohibition in every shape. This stand will materially affect politics in the northwest.

How They Got In.

TUCSON, Ari., June 18.—The trial of twenty-four Chinamen charged with violating the exclusion act commenced before United States Commissioner Hughes here. The evidence appears conclusive that the Chinese came direct from Hong Kong to San Francisco, and, on being denied admission, were transferred to the steamer Newbern and landed by it at Guaymas, Sonora, Mex., from which place they made their way across Sonora into Arizona.

BRIEF MENTION.

Mrs. Carrie E. Vandergrift, of Burlington, N. J., who is under $5,000 bail to appear at Trenton on July 2 and receive sentence for attempting to poison her son, Frank Norman, was arrested at Burlington and held in $100 bail to answer a charge of stealing chickens.

The navy department awarded the contract for building armored cruiser No. 2 to the Messrs. Cramp, of Philadelphia, on their own plans at $2,985,000. The vessel is the largest in the new navy and must be finished in three years.

Frederick Phaff, a shoe dealer of May's Landing, N. J., who owed money on his furniture, moved out in the night, but was captured at McKee City and forced to give up some of his goods.

Secretary Blaine has written a letter to ex-Mayor Conly of Augusta, Me., regarding the sugar duties, in which he says he is opposed to free sugar unless reciprocity trade is arranged with the sugar producing countries.

The locked out cloakmakers of New York called out all the inside workers of the firms in the manufacturers' association, making 4,000 men and women idle.

Robert J. Hare Powel, a young New York lawyer, was assaulted by an unknown man near his residence on Harbor Hill, L. I., and badly injured.

The Editorial Association of the Lehigh Valley organized permanently at Allentown, adopted a constitution and elected officers.

The New York Madison Square Garden, the largest amphitheatre in America, was dedicated, an audience of 10,000 being present.

Every railroad yard in Cleveland is tied up by the striking switchmen, who demand the same rates as are paid in Chicago.

Michael Eyraud, the Paris strangler, left Havana on the steamer Lafayette for France in charge of two detectives.

Henry M. Stanley has been appointed governor of the Congo Free State.

LIKE A BUTCHERED BULLOCK.

That Is How McBride Looked When Lynch Got Through with Him.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Paddy McBride of Philadelphia, and Jimmy Lynch, of this city, met in a skin tight glove fight to a finish Tuesday morning at Oak Point, on Long Island sound. One of the most desperate contests seen in the ring in this vicinity for many a year was witnessed by over 200 enthusiastic sports. The men battled for $1,000 stake money and an added purse of $500, which was procured from the sale of tickets at $10 each.

Oak Point, the scene of the contest, was reached about midnight after a pleasant sail by steamer. The ring was pitched on a dancing pavilion, and large lamps with reflectors gave plenty of light for the combatants to see the "mark."

Jack McAuliffe, the light weight champion, and Jack Quinn, the Scotch athlete, squired Lynch, and Denny Costigan kept his time. McBride was attended by Jack Fogarty, who gave Nonpareil Dempsey such a hard battle, and Billy Theiss. Dick McGrath held the watch for him. Both contestants wore blue fighting trunks and canvas shoes, and were in the pink of condition at the call of time.

McBride from the outset was handicapped with a sprained arm, but fought rather than forfeit.

In the first round Lynch clearly showed that he was a far more scientific man than his adversary. He landed repeatedly on McBride without a return. McBride took his punishment like a Spartan, but did not seem able to deliver any blows with his left. Lynch up to the twelfth round clearly overmatched his adversary, who depended entirely on his right, but could get no opportunity to use it on account of Lynch's shifty tactics.

In the second round Lynch landed a terrific left hand swinging blow on McBride's eye, that he visited again and again, finally closing it completely.

McBride made a desperate rally after being receiver general in the twelfth round, and landed a hot one on Lynch, knocking him almost over the ropes. Notwithstanding this the betting, which had always been in Lynch's favor, was still two to one.

The thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth rounds were fast and furious, each contestant trying to land a right hand swinging blow on the point of the jaw. McBride was very weak from loss of blood, but his indomitable pluck and gameness won him many friends.

In the seventeenth round the men fought like tigers, and it was either man's chance to get in a knockout blow. McBride, when he went to his corner, looked like a butchered bullock.

In the eighteenth and last round, after a terrific rally, Lynch swung his right on McBride's jaw, sending the latter through the ropes into the crowd. Partisans from both sides jumped into the ring, while McBride, who was not knocked out, but almost, crawled back into the ring, but before he could rise he was counted out.

A wrangle ensued over the time McBride was out, but when McAuliffe claimed the fight the referee gave the decision to Lynch.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

The Senate Action on the Silver Bill. The Tariff Bill Ready.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The senate by a vote of 37 to 7 struck out the bullion redemption clause in the house silver bill.

By a vote of 16 to 46 the senate refused to strike out section 6 of the bill, which provides for a resumption of coinage when silver reaches a certain value.

Stenographer McElhone Dead.

The Tariff Bill Completed.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The Republican members of the senate finance committee have completed the consideration of the tariff bill. If nothing unexpected happens it will be reported to the senate Wednesday.

The Prohibitionists Will Fight.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 18.—The effect of Judge Caldwell's decision in the original package cases was to cause the reopening of several package houses in this city, and liquor of all kinds in all styles of packages is being sold. One firm at the corner of Fifth and Jefferson streets opened Saturday night, and five others opened Monday. Two of the old dealers only are yet selling. It is understood that the Prohibitionists will continue the fight in some shape without waiting for congressional action.

His Skull Crushed by a Horse.

ITHACA, N. Y., June 18.—A. R. Bush, of Willseyville, a prominent merchant of Tioga county, was killed by a horse, which he was leading from his barn, suddenly rearing and striking him on the head with its hoofs, crushing his skull. Mr. Bush was 70 years of age.

THE BASEBALL ARENA.

The result of the various championship games was as follows:

Call for the Republican State Convention

HEADQUARTERS REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE,
Philadelphia, April 23, 1890.

The Republican State Convention will be held in the Opera House at Harrisburg on Wednesday, June 25, 1890, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor Lieutenat Governor and Secretary of Internal Affairs, and for the transaction of other business.

The attention of Republicans throughout the State is respectfully directed to the following permanent rules for the holding of State conventions and the conduct of the party.

FIRST, That delegates to the State convention shall be chosen in the manner in which candidates for the general assembly are nominated.

SECOND. Hereafter the State conventions of the Republican party shall be held not earlier than the third Wednesday of August, except in the year of the Presidential election, when it shall be held not more than thirty days previous to the day fixed for the National Convention, and except in Gubernatorial years. At least sixty days' notice shall be given of the date of the State Convention.

THIRD, That we recommend to the county organizations, that in their rules they allow the largest freedom in the general participation in the primaries consistent with the preservation of the party organization.

The State convention of June 30, 1886, having abolished Senatorial representation, delegates to the approaching State convention will be selected according to the number of Representatives in the Legislature to which each county or city is entitled under the Representative Apportionment law passed by the Legislature of 1887.

By resolution of the State Committe,
WILLIAM H. ANDREWS,
Chairman

Kicking on the Enumeration.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 18.—The newspapers of this city have been filled for two days with the names of persons who have not been enumerated in the census. Superintendent Porter telegraphed that the census must be completed properly if it took all summer, and that the enumerators must continue their work until each name in every district is recorded.

The Weather.

Fair; slightly warmer; southerly winds.

THE DEAD CANDIDATE.

Maine Democrats Take Appropriate Action —Another Convention Demanded.

BANGOR, Me., June 18.—A largely attended meeting of the leaders of the Democratic party in this city and vicinity was held here to take appropriate action on the sudden death of Hon. Francis W. Hill, the Democratic candidate for governor. Resolutions were adopted expressing a sense of the party's loss, tendering sympathy to the family of the deceased and appointing a committee to attend the funeral.

It is the general feeling here that another Democratic state convention should be called to nominate a new candidate. The dissatisfaction among the Democrats of this city and its vicinity in regard to the refusal of the Democratic state convention to adopt a license plank in its platform has culminated in a movement to call a state convention to nominate an independent candidate for governor on a local option platform, and papers to that end, addressed to voters irrespective of party, were circulated for signatures.

It is said that a number of Republicans are concerned in the movement.

THE WHISKY TRUST ON TOP.

It Has Gobbled Up the Protective Liquor Dealers' Association.

PEORIA, Ills., June 18.—A new deal is on foot in the affairs of the Whisky trust, which is nothing more than a combination of the trust and the Protective Liquor Dealers' association.

About the time whisky was advancing seven cents per gallon several big dealers in Cincinnati and elsewhere were engaged with George Wilson, of this city, in erecting a big distillery in Pekin, which was to be operated independent of the trust. Work has been suspended on this distillery and the information has been given out that it is not to be completed.

C. C. Turner, the head of the Protective Liquor Dealers' association, has arrived here, and it is semi-officially announced that he will not return to Louisville. Members of the trust say Mr. Turner is to be given a position in the trust headquarters.

Governor Waterman Protests.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 18.—In a letter to Attorney General Johnson Governor Waterman calls attention to the frequent recurrence of prize fights within the state limits. He declares that the state has been disgraced by organizations given up to the degrading and disgusting exhibitions of brute force in alleged scientific contests, and which are nothing more or less than prize fights. These exhibitions, he says, should be no longer permitted, and concludes by requesting the attorney general to inquire into the matter and to take such measures as will prevent any more of these debasing exhibitions.

Pharmacists in Session.

AUBURN, N. Y., June 18.—The twelfth annual convention of the State Pharmaceutical association convened in Association hall Tuesday morning. There are about 200 members present, and it is expected that this number will be augmented by about 100 more later. The morning session was wholly taken up by the reading of reports, addresses of welcome and responses, the happiest of all being the brief reponse of Dr. J. H. Eaton, of Syracuse, to Col. Woodruff, president of the local board of trade. There are now 762 members in good standing, and the disbursements of the funds the last year amounted to $879.02. The convention will continue for three days at least and some important business will be transacted.

Bunker Hill Day Celebrated.

BOSTON, June 18.—Bunker Hill day was ushered in with the usual firecracker and fish horn demonstrations in Charlestown. Many of the clubs there kept open house Monday night and dinner parties were numerous. The Hillside associates had a great bonfire of 500 railroad ties on Bunker Hill. The day was celebrated with a monster parade in the morning and a banquet and a contest of firemen in the afternoon.

The Chronicle's New Building.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 18.—The new Chronicle building at Kearney and Geary streets, one of the most complete structures on the Pacific coast, was thrown open for public inspection Monday night. The building has been under construction for over a year, and its builder, M. H. De Young, proprietor of the Chronicle, has spent about $1,000,000 upon it.

Adrift in a Balloon.

ATLANTA, Ga., June 18.—A balloon has been seen drifting about in this vicinity since Saturday. Some memoranda which fell from it and were picked up state that it is Professor Walker's balloon from Dayton, O. The occupants had lost their ballast and were adrift, suffering from cold.

Honors To General Hastings

General Hastings held a reception last evening at the American Hotel at which hundreds of Allentonians seized the opportunity to shake the General's hand, chat a few moments with him. The Allentown Band called around at eight o'clock and serenaded the General, rendering three of their finest selections and playing "Hail to the Chief" as the General appeared on the balcony. Ex-Congressmen James S. Biery in well chosen terms made the introduction and the General responded with a brief speech, thanking the the people of Allentown for the cordiality of their reception and the kindliness of their treatment. He invited all to come into the hotel and, would be pleased to see them. This was a signal for a grand march into the writing room of the hotel where for a long time the General was kept busy shaking hands. He was later escorted to the Livingston Club rooms, where he received another ovation and where he enjoyed the society of the leading and representative citizens.

In the G. A. R. hall before the parade General Hastings in behalf of E.B. Young Post, presented a handsome banner to the Women's Relief Corps. A. W. Mennig responded for the ladies.

General Hastings had a very pleasant stay in Allentown. He left this morning on the 8:15 Lehigh Valley train for New York, where he will be the guest of 150 newspaper men from all parts of the country who did service for their papers at Johnstown during and after the flood and who are having a re-union at New York to-day.—Allentown City Item of May 31.

Impure Blood

A Pennsylvania Railroad Man Tells of a Remarkable Cure of Scrofulous Humor—Read It.

Mr. Ruby, who makes the following statement, is a well known railroad man, running on the Pennsylvania Railroad between Columbia, Penn., and Philadelphia:

"I feel that I wish to tell what has been done for us and our little boy by Hood's Sarsaparilla. He is now six years of age, and, until a short time ago, has ever since birth been a terrible sufferer from scrofulous humor. Sores would appear on him and spread until they were as large as a dollar, and then discharge, only to be followed by others, so that the larger part of his body was one mass of sores all the time. The scrofula was especially severe on his legs and back of his ears and on his head. His hair was so matted that combing was sometimes impossible. His ears became so thin that we could see through them, and were actually

AFRAID THEY WOULD DROP OFF.

His legs were so bad that sometimes he could not sit down, and it was impossible for him to run about and play like other children. Frequently when he tried to walk, his leg would crack open and the blood start from different places. The humor had a very offensive odor, and caused intense itching, so that at night we had to tie his hands in mittens or stockings to prevent his scratching and tearing himself. We cannot tell

HOW THAT POOR BOY SUFFERED

for nearly five years, nor how his terrible condition distressed us. We did all we could to relieve him. Two or three physicians agreed in calling it scrofulous humor, but did not effect a cure. We tried salves and ointments, and other things but without benefit. At last I decided to give him Hood's Sarsaparilla, as

MY DRUGGIST RECOMMENDED IT.

In about two weeks the Sarsaparilla began to have effect. The sores commenced to heal up; the flesh began to look more natural and healthy. Then the scales came off and all over his body new and healthy flesh and skin formed. When he had taken two bottles he was entirely free from sores, having only the scars to show where they had been. These are gradually disappearing. The little fellow was to Hood's Sarsaparilla when he found it was curing him, and he would call for 'My medicine' when the time came for him to take it. We are unable to express our thanks for the good Hood's Sarsaparilla has done our little boy." HARRY K. RUBY, Box 256, Columbia, Pa.

A Later Letter

From Mr. Ruby states that his son is now in perfect health, has no trouble from the humor, which is entirely cured. He has many inquiries about the recovery of the boy, and advises all who suffer with such diseases to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

What Can be Added

To the above statement to make more emphatic the evidence of the cleansing effect of Hood's Sarsaparilla upon the blood? It would seem to be the positive duty of all who suffer from any disease or affection caused by impure blood, to at least give Hood's Sarsaparilla a fair trial. Its many wonderful cures have won for it the title of "the greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

Every Confidence.

"Among the few proprietary articles I recommend to customers Hood's Sarsaparilla is one in which I place every confidence. My patrons seem to have the same confidence, judging from its sale, which is more than all the other blood purifiers together." G. B. LITTLE, Druggist, Greensburg, Pa.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

Pretty Good for a Man of 56.

The following is from Mr. John Hines, manufacturer of enameled dies, who has carried on business in Philadelphia since Oct. 9, 1850, and whose testimonial in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla is certainly worthy of consideration.

"One year ago I was laid up sick with pneumonia for 14 weeks. When I got over that, my feet and legs swelled, were very much inflamed, and caused me much suffering. The doctor said I had gout, which I did not believe. I tried a number of cures, of no avail. Then some one asked me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I did so. I took it three times a day, before meals. Before I had taken one bottle I began to improve. I took in all five bottles, which cured me and made me feel well otherwise. I have had no return of the affection. Can walk ten miles every day, which is pretty good for a man 56 years old. I feel grateful for the good Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me, and have used my influence with a number of people to try it, and so far with satisfactory results." JOHN HINES, 40 North 30th Street, Philadelphia, Penn.

Cancerous Sore.

"About 7 years ago I had a cancerous sore on my nose, which grew to be very troublesome and offensive. I concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after using two bottles the sore disappeared and healed up entirely. It has been cured for two years with no appearance of its returning. I am now in my eightieth year and enjoying good health. I feel it my duty to recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all persons suffering from similar troubles. Be sure to get Hood's." JOSIAH HARVEY, Delmont, Westmoreland Co., Penn.

Confirmatory Statement.

"The above certificate is from Josiah Harvey, insurance agent, a gentleman well known throughout Westmoreland county. His statement in regard to the sore and cure performed is correct." Z. ZIMMERMAN, Druggist, Delmont, Penn.

N. B. If you decide, from what you have heard or read, to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy any other.

St Jacobs Oil Cures

PROMPTLY AND PERFECTLY

BRUISES, SWELLINGS, CUTS, &c.

A bruise is a contusion; swellings are inflammations; cuts and wounds are all disturbances of natural action, through which the veins are clogged, circulation impeded, congestion sets in and pains ensue. Nature is impatient—it tries to right itself and pain intensifies. Bruises and swellings need a soothing influence, but in cuts and wounds hardly any one would pour a liquid remedy into a gaping wound. So soon as nature brings the parts together, almost at once,

St Jacobs Oil soothes clears away obstructions, heals the injured tissues and restores. Used according to directions, it helps nature and cures

PROMPTLY AND PERMANENTLY.

Mr. Louis Rush, 49 Preston Street, Detroit, Mich., says: "Pitching ball I sprained and bruised my arm; two applications of St. Jacobs Oil cured me."

Mr. Gustav Nauwald, Jr. (Tivydale), Fredericksburg, Texas, writes, August 20, 1888: "I was badly cut with a scythe; half bottle St. Jacobs Oil cured me." It CURES.

Prospects for Harvest.

Despite the fact of there having been too much rain throughout the country, the present outlook for crops is equal to that of any previous year, and when tired from severe toil and fatigue, thy farmer returns to the shady trees, longs for a cool drink of water. He forgets that his life is in danger from the sudden cooling of the system. In the good old times the apple jack and pure old rye were awaiting the return home and why not now? Because you fear the impurities. Let us here say to you that you can get it as pure as ever and at reasonable prices, by the quart or gallon at from $1.50 to $4.00 per gallon, neatly packed and shipped by express. The gain of lying is nothing else but not to be trusted by any, nor to be believed when we say the truth.

Nature when she plants a vegitable poison, generally provides an antidote i so in the moral world, she causes sympathies to spring up by the side of antipathies.

Positiveness is a most absurd foible; f you are in the right it lessens your triumph; if in the wrong it adds shame to your defeat.

It is folly to believe that one can faithfully love who does not love faithfulness.

An Editor's Faith.

The editor of the Advocate, published at Greenville, Ala., expresses his faith in S. S. S.: "The good this preparation has accomplished is incalculable, and thousands of men and women that it has saved from an early grave to day rise up and bless the originator, and those who placed it in their power to procure it. A number of our acquaintances have used this wonderful medicine to their great benefit, most of them to their perfect healing, and their testimony has been given to the public that others like them may take the healing balm. We know that Swift's Specific S. S. S. is no humbug, and can recommend it, and we do most heartily. HASTINGS CARRIES MONTGOMERY

And the Hastings—Montooth Combination Get Fayette and Somerset.

Saturday was another field for day Bellefonte's favorite. He carries Montgomery county by storm getting the five delegates to which the county is entitled. The Hastings—Montooth delegation, carry Fayette and Somerset counties and Delamater gets nothing. This practically ends the contest for delegates as all have now been chosen but one from Jefferson county and that one will not be elected until Tuesday before the Convention. Of the delegates now elected it is universally conceeded that General Hastings has the most instructed and pledged delegates. The uninstructed will likely hold the balance of power at the Convention and it only now remains to be seen what they will do. At present Hastings chances seem to be the best.

THE COWBOY KNOWS!

Trying to hold a drove of cattle together in a drenching rain means an amount of exposure which few can withstand without serious results. If sickness does not follow, it will be found that such hardship usually brings on rheumatism and similar complaints. At such times a "Fish Brand Slicker" is worth its weight in gold, and is invaluable to any one exposed to stormy weather. For all saddle uses, you want a Pommel Slicker, which keeps the entire saddle, pommel, and cantle dry, and completely envelopes the rider from head to foot. He can't get wet, whatever the weather. And, besides keeping him dry, it keeps him warm. Every range rider has one. Why shouldn't you? Beware of worthless imitations; every garment stamped with "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you can have the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered without extra cost. Particulars and illustrated catalogue free.

Census Disappointments.

A Philadelphia paper thinks that the census enumeration now under way "will be full of surprises and dizappointments" Further: "Western cities will be disappointed, with here and there an exception: This is the result of almost every census. Western States, particularly those West of the Mississippi, will surpass expectation. The four leading cities of the country will be New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Brooklyn. In 1880 Brooklyn was bigger than Chicago. It will be a bitter disappointment to Chicago if it is now. Boston was the fifth city in 1880, and St. Louis expects to lead now, but the chances favor Boston.

Pure Brandy.

We call our readers attention to the following testimonial from undoubted authority on the excellence and purity of Speer, s P. J, Brandy.

NEW YORK.

MR. SPEER:

I congratulate you on a recent unsought testimonial as to the purity of your brandy. Lady Duffus Hardy, of Landon, Eng, an old acquaintance of mine, on testing from the bottle of brandy we brought from Passaic the other day, immediately asked me to get a like one for her, which I did this morning. The English aristocrats, you know, male and female, are pretty good judges of brandy.

Wishing you every success in your really good work,

I remain yours truly,

Looking out over the many homes of this country, we see thousands of women wearing away their lives in household drudgery that might be materially lessened by the use of a few cakes of SAPOLIO. If an hour is saved each time a cake is used, if one less wrinkle gathers upon the face because the toil is lightened, she must be a foolish woman who would hesitate to make the experiment, and he a churlish husband who would grudge the few cents which it costs.

WELL UP IN MASONRY.

He Told His Wife He Had Taken 233 Degrees.

A middle-aged lady, with a black alpaca dress, worn shiny at the elbows, and a cheap shawl and a cheap bonnet, and her hands puckered up and blue, as though she had just got her washing out, went into the office of a prominent Mason a few mornings since, and took a chair, says a writer in Peck's Sun. She wiped her nose and the prespiration from her face on a blue checked apron, and, when the mason looked at her with an interested, brotherly look, as though she was in trouble, she said:

"Are you the boss Mason?"

He blushed and told her he was a Mason, but not the highest in the land.

She hesitated a moment, fingered the corner of her apron, and curled it up like a boy speaking a piece in school, and asked:

"Have you taken the whole 233 degrees of Masonry?"

The man laughed and told her there were only thirty-three degrees, and that he had only taken thirty-two. The other degree could only be taken by a very few, who were recommended by the Grand Lodge and they had to go to New York to get the thirty-third degree.

The lady studied a minute, unpinned the safety pin that held her shawl together and put it in her mouth, took a long breath and said:

'Where does my husband get the other 200 degrees, then?"

The prominent Mason said he guessed her husband never got 200 degrees unless he had a degree factory. He said he didn't understand the lady.

"Does my husband have to set up with a corpse three nights a week?" she asked, her eyes flashing fire. "Do you keep a lot of sick Masons on tap for my husband to sit up with?"

The prominent Mason said he was thankful that few died, and only occasionally one was sick enough to call for Masonic assistance. When a Mason was sick and away from home, or when his family desired it, the brethren were so many Mason, and so few sick that it was only once in two or three months that a brother was called upon to sit up with anybody.

"But why do you ask these questions, madam?" said the prominent Mason.

The woman picked the fringe of her shawl, hung her head down, and said:

"Well, my husband began to join the Masons about years ago, and he has been taking degrees or sitting up with people every night since, and he comes home at all times smelling of beer and cheese. I thought at first that the cheese was the result of his going to the Morgue to help carry brother Masons home after they had been found in the river. I have kept a little track of it, and I figure that he has taken 233 degrees, including the grand Skyfugle degree, which he took the night he came home with his lip cut and his ear hanging by a piece of skin."

"O!, madam," said the prominent Mason, "there is no Skyfugle degree in Masonry. Your husband has lied to you."

That's what I think, said she, as a baleful light appeared in her eye. He said he was taking the Skyfugle degree and fell through the skylight. I had him sewed up, and he was ready for more degrees.

After he had taken, I think, about 150 degrees, I told him I should think he would let up on it, and put some potatoes in the cellar for winter, but he said when a man once got started on the degrees he had to take them all, or he didn't amount to anything.

One time I wanted a hat to wear to church, with a feather on, and he said feathers were all nonsense, and the next day he brought home a leather case with a felt coal scuttle in it, and a feather on it that couldn't have cost less than $10, the way I figure millinery. And when he put it on, and I laughed at his ridiculous appearance, he began to throw his arms around and I ask him what was the matter, and he said that it was the grand hailing sign of distress, and if I didn't look out an avenger would appear from a dark closet and run a toadsticker through me for a scoffer.

He must have spent a fortune on the last 150 degrees. One morning he came home with his coat tail split right up his back and his pants torn just as though a dog had chewed him, and one eye closed up and a wad of hair pulled right out of his head, and he said he had been taking the 200th degree, but he wouldn't tell how it happened because it was a dead secret.

Sometimes a brother Mason comes home with him along in the morning, and they gab about a full flush, and they both act full as they stand on the steps and gab about their pat hands and raising 'em out and calling and bobtail flush. One night when he was asleep I heard him whisper, I raise you $10, and when I wanted to be told what it meant he said they had been raising a purse for a poor widow. Another time he raised up in bed after he had been asleep and shouted, "I stand pat,' and when I wanted to know what that meant he said he'd be ruined if I told of it. He said he had mentioned the password, and if the brethren heard of it they would put him out of the way. Mister, is 'I stand pat' your password?"

The Mason told her it was not. That the words she had spoken was an expression used by men playing draw-poker, and he added that he didn't believe her husband wes a Mason at all, but that he had been lying to her all these years.

She sighed and said: "That's what I thought when he came home with a lot of ivory chips in his pocket.

"He said they used them at the lodge to vote on candidates, and that a white chip elects and a blue chip rejects a candidate.

"If you will look the matter up, and see if he has joined the Masons, I will be obliged to you. He says he has taken all the 233 degrees, and now the boys want him to join the Knights of Pythias. I want to get an injunction to prevent him from joining anything else until we get some clothes.

"I'll tell you what I will do. The next time he says anything about Skyfugle degrees and consistory nonsense I will use a washboard and cause him to believe there is one degree in Masonry he has missed; and now, good-bye. You have comforted me greatly and I will lie awake to-night until my husband comes from the lodge with his pat hand and I will make him thigk he has forgot his ante."

The lady went out to a grocery to buy some bar soap, and the prominent Mason resumed his business with a feeling that we are not all truly good, and there is cheating going on all around.

Girls and Money.

While so many wives are still in bond age to a husband's purse strings, it is perhaps idle to plead for freedom for the daughters. But is not a certain injustice in money matters done most girls who, after twenty one, remain in a father's house? It is so hard for the fathers to realize that the girls are grown up, and that dependence, even on one who loves you, has its trials. Many a girl feels keenlp this bondage, especially if, as often happens, she must in asking tell for what she wants the money, thus subjecting her desires to another's judgment. Indulgence and justice are very different things; and in money matters all women prefer the latter. A fair recognition of claims is dearer to them than a thoughtless and spasmodic generosity, and the trust involved is the sweetest compliment to their good sense.

Give her some money of her very own, not more than you spend on her now, perhaps not so much at first, since one must provide for the chance of her spending foolishly and needing to be helped out of the consequences. A little bank account; perhaps later a small piece of property given to her to manage, whose profits shall be her allowance—to many a girl that would be the sweetest proof of a father's love.

When one thinks of women of twenty-five or thirty who have never had a dower of their own unless she earned it—and that, sometimes, against a parent's wish—who are as ignorant as children of all business ways, who all their lives will be dependence on some tried and trying relative because of this ignorance—it seems at once a pity and a shame. For their is an intellectual discipline in learning judicious spending. Some one calls it a final test of character. But character does not come in a day, and experience often charges poor women high rates for lessons. For ten who can earn there are not seven who can spend, who have that true thrift which is not stinginess, though it sometimes looks like it.—Housewife.

CRAZED BY STARVATION.

The Horrible Experience of an Old Union Army Veteran.

HIS STRUGGLE FOR LIFE.

A Pocketful of Pawn Tickets Told the Sad Story—When Discovered There Issued from His Throat the Shriek of a Maniac.

NEW YORK, June 14.—In Bellevue hospital Friday there lay an honorably discharged Union soldier and a member of Typographical Union No. 6, dying of starvation. His name is John H. Waite. He was taken to the hospital on Thursday evening a raving maniac. His condition was owing to the fact that he had gone without food for days.

It was on Sunday evening last that Waite entered the lodging house at 262 Bowery, known as Schirmer's hotel. This lodging house differs from the others along the Bowery in the fact that a sign over the door states that it is "the cleanest hotel in the city."

Waite paid for his room—twenty-five cents a night is the price—and immediately retired. He spoke to no one about the establishment. Waite went in and out of the hotel on Monday and Tuesday. On Wednesday he sat around a good deal. To one of the attendants he said he did not have the strength to move. He was starving then.

Kept His Troubles to Himself.

The attendants, calloused as they are, could not help but feel a pity for the old man—he was 51—who went about so uncomplainingly and who was growing thinner and weaker every day. But they never knew the real cause, for Waite kept his troubles to himself.

Pawn tickets found among his effects Friday morning told the tale of his struggle for existence. First it was a vest, then a coat, next a pair of trousers. The little yellow slips—he'd preserved them carefully, with his honorable discharge from the Thirty-third New York Volunteers—told eloquently how it was that the old man had nothing but the clothing he wore when the end approached.

Waite crept slowly up to his room on Wednesday evening. Thursday he was not seen about the place at all. In the evening one of the attendants, while passing the veteran's door, heard a strange noise inside.

A Horrible Sight.

He procured a light, and by its aid found the old man occupying the floor space that was not taken up by the cot. He had fallen from the cot and had not the strength to rise.

The attendant spoke to Waite and received only a few incoherent sounds in reply. Suddenly the old man raised himself to a sitting posture. His thin, bony arms were stretched above his head. The long gray hair fell about his head in dishevelled confusion.

The light from a flickering, smoky lamp fell upon an upturned face that was pale, drawn and very thin. His thin, bloodless lips opened, and there issued from his throat the shriek of a maniac. Starvation had dethroned the veteran's reason.

A policeman was hurriedly summoned, and then came an ambulance. Waite was removed to Bellevue hospital, where he is at present. There is but little hope of his recovery.

The Care of the Insane.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 14.—At the session of the convention of superintendents of insane institutions, Washington, D. C., was chosen as the next place of meeting. A resolution was unanimously adopted congratulating New York state on the care of its insane. Dr. E. N. Bush read a paper on "The Employment of Women Physicians in Institutions for the Insane." The conclusions were that fewer cures and greater mortality occur where women physicians are employed than where the staff is composed entirely of men.

Two More Set Free.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Judge Cowing in the court of general sessions Friday morning rendered his decision dismissing the indictments against John Keenan and Boodle Alderman Henry L. Sayles, who were charged with participating in the steal of the Broadway railroad franchise.

SNOW SHOE NOTES.

FROM THE PEN OF A FAIR CORRESPONDENT—PERSONALS AND LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Dr. and Mrs. Thompson, formerly of this place but now of Martha, Pa., accompanied by Miss McFarland, of Boalsburg, are visiting at Dr. Stewarts.

Hon. J. H. Holt placed his autograph on the Mountain House register on Monday.

Miss Stella Hickey, of Bellefonte is the guest of Miss Regan.

The school grounds of Snow Shoe never looked so clean and inviting as they do now.

We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Williams in the loss of her brother.

Mrs. Joseph Gilliland, of Three Runs, is the guest of Mrs. Robert Gilliland.

Col. Eyre Pile, of Bellefonte, has been the guest of Robert J. Haynes for several days.

Mrs. Crider has just returned from a visit to her father in Lock Haven, where she met her son, Robert, formerly one of our Snow Shoe boys, He has been engaged in business at Nanticoke for more than a year but has now accepted a good position at Columbia. We wish him success in his new position.

One of Snow Shoe's great attractions at present is a thriving young bear belonging to our townsman, Mr. J. G. Uzzle.

Among the many specialty pretty features of Children's Day exercises in the M. E. Church on Sunday evening was a selection given by Mrs. Cadle, the ministers wife, and her class entitled, "Crown Sceptre and Throne." The crown was worn by the teacher and gemmed with flowers as the Misses recited, each one contributing a different flower. A very pretty boy, Merton Edwards, presented the sceptre. Three girls uncovered a beautifully decorated throne and tendered it to their teacher, who ended the selection with some beautiful sentiments. Another pretty part of the programme was the "Christian Arch"—Charity being the key of the arch. This was given by the Bible class. "Springtide," by Miss Blanche Zimmerman, and the "Blacksmith's Story," by Miss Lena Roth, deserve special mention for the forcible style, yet easy grace, with which they were rendered.

A very pleasant party of five, Mr. and Mrs. Wescott and three friends, of Bellefonte, visited Snow Shoe this week.

The Mountain House has been thoroughly repaired and renovated. It has been repapered, painted and newly carpeted. In brief, some charming surprise meets one at every turn in the shape of something new and pretty. The parlors in soft tints of gray and handsome carpets and hangings, look very cool and inviting. It is now one of the most popular hotels in Central Pennsylvania and it is now rapidly filling up with summer guests, and applications for rooms are being received daily. Among the guests this week are the beautiful and accomplished Mrs. Howell and two children, of Atchison, Kansas. Mrs. H., has spent a number of summers here with her aunt, Mrs. Nolan, and she and her children are general favorites.

Snow Shoe's popular merchant, R. C. Gilliland, deserves considerable credit for the cultured taste displayed in the combination of various shades of paint with which he has lately had his house adorned. FIDLIS.

[We would be glad to have "Fidelis" write as frequently as possible; as such newsy letters as the above are always not only acceptable, but welcome.—ED.]

"Acres of Diamonds."

Every person is familiar with the above quotation as it is the title to one of the most popular lectures of that most popular lecturer, Russell H. Conwell, of Philadelphia. Mr. Conwell has revised and added to his lecture and it is now being being published in book form. It makes a magnificent volume, beautifully illustrated, handsome printed and bound, and filled, as everyone knows, with the most sparkling thoughts and sayings. The book is now in the hands of the printer and will be issued in a few weeks. Messrs. Earl B. Francis and Edwin T. Oberholtzer, students of the University of which Mr. Conwell is president, are now in Bellefonte soliciting orders for the book. These young men are spending their vacation in the hope to make enough money to enable them to attend school the coming year and everybody should encourage them by buying a book. Give them an order when they call on you.

—Yesterday afternoon Andrew D Ritchey, a farmer who lived about two miles from Spruce Creek, drove his daughter to the railroad station at that place, it being the intention of the lady to go to Altoona. When they reached the station Mr. Ritchey went into one of the stores there, when he was suddenly stricken with heart disease and died almost instantly. He was at the time of his death fifty-eight years old. His wife, three sons and one daughter, survive him. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock.

—We are daily receiving circulars booming some fellow's chances for governor or lieutenant governor, and we put them all in—the waste basket.

THE SCHOOL BOARD.

At the organization of the School Board D. F. Fortney, Esq., on again being elected president, made some suggestions and recommendations to the board, from which the following was adopted as the sense of the board and directed to be published.

The board should insist, as a board, as well as individually and through the principal upon all of the teachers giving their best energies to the success, and advancement, and progress of the schools. The habit of the board in re-electing the teachers is to be commended, but the teachers should understand while this is done, it is not only their duty, but their business to keep fully abreast with the great progress now being made in all the arts, branches and appliances of education.

"Whatever multiplied and diversified duties may rest upon directors, there is one paramount duty that centers upon them with pivotal directness and force, and whatever else they may do for the schools it amounts to nothing unless they put in good teachers and keep out poor ones. The teacher is the key to the whole situation and the school is good or bad according to the qualifications of the teacher who is put in charge of it.

The schools were established solely for the instruction of the pupils who attend them. Therefore only those who are competent to instruct should be employed, and no consideration incompatible with this object should be allowed to control or influence the actions of the Board.

If we resolve first that we will employ those applicants for teachers positions who are but qualified; and secondly that we will grade the salaries according to qualifications required, we will add immensely to the usefulness of the schools.

Penn'a. School Journal for June.

No teacher of this district has a right to, or can find fault with the Board, for they have at all times been treated kindly and with great consideration. No one has asked anything of the Board which has not been granted, and especially so if it would help them in the discharge of their duties, or add to the efficiency of the schools. This is right. The generosity of the board should stimulate the zeal and energy of the teachers.

To judge from the number of applicants we now have for schools, we ought to be able to obtain the very best teaching talent in the county. We are giving, as a rule, the schools to those who have been brought up in our community and educated in our schools. This course is to be commended and it certainly commends itself to our citizens. While this is true citizens and directors alike have the right to insist that those thus favored shall qualify themselves so they shall in all respects, be equal in qualification, if not superior, to any teacher who can be obtained from outside the district.

We think it not out of the way, nor is it asking to much when we request the teachers of our schools to attend, for a full term, one of the many excellent summer schools of methods, which are held in many parts of the State.

These schools are conducted by the best educators, not only of the State, but from various parts of the country and will be of much help especially to those who have never had any special training in the art of teaching.

—The circulation and influence of the DAILY NEWS, as conceded by the uptown paper, is something wonderful When a slight mistake occurred in this paper one week ago the Gazette says that soon after-wards—about as soon as the paper could reach that place—all the young ladies in the graduating class of the Mountain Seminary put on mourning, etc., until the next paper came around and announced that the item was a mistake, when they brightened up again. We can explain the fact by the fact that the reputation of the DAILY NEWS, unlike that of the Gazette, for truth and veracity is far famed and when it says "Cemetery Commencement" for "Seminary" everybody the worldover would think it so, never stopping to question the bare possibility of a typographical error or an oversight of the proof reader.

LEAN UPON MY ARM, MOTHER.

A gentleman coming out of a Back Bay church on Sunday last with an aged lady on his arm was heard to say, "Pray lean on my arm mother; I am well able to bear your weight." The sentence suggested the following lines to the Penciller;

Pray lean upon my arm, mother,
Your form is feeble now,
And silver are the locks that shade
The furrows on your brow.

Your step is not so strong, mother,
As in the days gone by;
But strong as ever is the love
That beams within your eye.

When I was but a babe, mother,
With tender love inspired;
You carried me for many an hour
Until your arms were tired.

From childhood up to manhood's years,
Through every pain and ill,
You watched me with a loving eye—
You watch my welfare still.

And shall I fall you now, mother,
When all your strength has fled
Neglect to guide your feeble steps
As through life's vale you tread?

Your eyes are dim with age, mother,
Care's lines are on your brow,
The little feet you guided once
Are strong to guide you now.

Then lean upon my arm, mother,
Henceforth, life's journey through,
What you did so long for him
Your boy will do for you.

—Quite a severe rain storm on Friday evening.

ABOUT PLOWS.

When the first cast-iron plow was invented, about 100 years ago, the objection was made that it would poison the soil, by turning up fresh matter, and rocks and stones would be brought to the surface. In the fourteenth century 40 feet of land was considered a day's work in spading, and forty men were required to spade over an acre a day. Now a man and team can invert from one to two acres per day, and by steam and gang-plows can invert an acre an hour. There have been a great many foolish notions in regard to plowing, and probably experience is to teach us more about our pet theories yet.

For example when Horace Greely announced that there was a farm under a farm, and that all that was needed was head-room, all the amateurs began to plow deep, The subsoil plow was invented and was worked in the depths of the furrows. But it seldom works there now. The proper depth to plow has not been settled, for it doubtless depends on the character of the soil, but for general purposes, six to seven inches is considered a suitable depth. There are cases where a greater depth, even on deep alluviols, has been thought to work injury. The writer once used four horses on such land, with a double mold board Michigan plow, plowing ten to twelve inches deep, and for such crops as corn, potatoes or grass would never try it again. The easy draft plow of to day is a great improvement on the heavy draft plows of the past, and we may confidently expect further improvements.—Springfield Republican.

Regulars Will Be There.

A dispatch from Washington, dated June 11th, says:

Adjutant Gen. D. H. Hastings, Gen. George R. Snowden, and Cols. W. J. Elliot, J. L. Spangler and G. H. North, of the Pennsylvania National Guard, arrived in the city this evening. The object of his visit is to invite President Harrison, Secretary of War Proctor and Maj.-Gen. Schofield to visit the encampment of the National Guard, which commences at Mt. Gretna on July 19.

A request was made some time ago by Gen. Hastings that the Secretary of War detail a few regular troops to encamp with the State Guard, believing that the drill and discipline of the former would be of great service in teaching the militia the details of a soldier's life and a soldier's duty. It is desired that three batteries of artillery, two troops of horse and three or four companies of infantry be sent to the encampment. The State troops will number about 7,500 men. The officers will visit the President and Secretary of War to-morrow.

Graduates With Honor.

Another Bellefonte young gentleman has graduated with honor and thus keeps up the record of graduates of the beautiful mountain town. On Wednesday Mr. William S. Furst, son of Judge A. O. Furst, won the Class of '59 Essay Prize out of a class of 141. This is the only prize Will contested for and the fact of him having won it reflects considerable honor on himself.

This is another proof of the excellencies of the Bellefonte Academy, at which institution of learning Mr. Furst took his early training and fitted himself to enter Princeton College.

On Thursday, in company with members of his class, Will sailed for Europe to be gone until about the first of October. The trip is simply one of pleasure, but the young gentlemen will doubtless gather much information that will prove of material benefit to them. Bellefonte can, indeed, be proud of her young men.

Sad Death of an Old Man.

The Muncy Luminary says that Christian Meirs, aged 85 years, met a tragic death at the home of his brother August, in Mosquito Valley, Lycoming county, late Saturday night. The old man was a resident of Philadelphia and came to Williamsport some time ago to spend the summer in the country. Saturday night he went to the place where the butter-milk was kept to get a drink, but instead picked up a can of concentrated lye. Before discovering his error he had swallowed a mouthful of the fiery liquid. His mouth and throat were horribly burned, but the old man sat down and said nothing about it. Later on he went into convulsions and in a rational moment told of what had happened. A physician was called, but the victim was beyond relief and died in agony about midnight. It was at first thought that the man had drunk the deadly poison with suicidal intent, but the latter developments did not substantiate this theory.

CENTRE COUNTY'S REPRESENTATIONS.

An Organization of the Hastings Club Effected—One Hundred and Fifty Strong.

In accordance with the call issued in Monday's DAILY NEWS, a goodly number of enthusiastic Hastings men met in Bush's Arcade hall on Monday evening to effect an organization of a "Hastings Club," the object and purpose of which shall be to attend the State Convention at Harrisburg next week and by their influence preserve and further the nomination of the Centre county candidate.

Secretary J. M. Dale called the meeting to order and the election of officers was at once proceeded with and the result was as follows: President of the Club, E. C. Humes; secretary, H. P' Harris; treasurer, W. I. Fleming, captain W. F. Reeder. The reading of the list of those already signed as members of the club was next called for and W. I. Fleming responded, reading a list of about ninety names from Bellefonte, and giving assurance of thirty-five from Philipsburg.

As the purpose of the organization was known, the present size of the club likewise, a desire to know what had been done and what arrangements were already made was manifested and John M. Dale was called on to furnish the information. Mr. Dale said that arrangements had just been made for a club of one hundred and fifty. The object was already known. It is proposed to leave Bellefonte at 5.30 a. m. on Tuesday, the 24th, go to Tyrone and meet the Philipsburg delegation and then off to the State capital. On arriving there the Club would form and march to club headquarters, which will be secured by someone in Harrisburg, and there receive further orders. The regalia or uniform of the club will consist of a cane, a badge and a high white hat. The entire outfit, including the round trip ticket—to Harrisburg and return—will be about $3.50.

The Bellefonte band will be taken along and, perhaps, the Philipsburg. The cars will be handsomely decorated and properly marked with banners. In order to do all this will require a little money and accordingly, it was suggested that a committee on Finance, one on Decoration and one on Equipment be appointed.

Motions were made, the committees were voted in and are as follows: Finance—W I Fleming, W E Gray and E R Chambers. Decoration—S H Williams, Amos Mullen and George B. Johnston. Equipment—J A Fiedler, H P Harris and John Bullock. The hats, canes and badges will be sent to this place and distributed among the members of the club as soon as received.

After the appointment of the above named committees an opportunity was given to sign the roll of membership and quite a number took advantage of the opportunity. It is said that Montooth will have a club of 200 from Pittsburg in his interest, Delamater one of 400 from Meadville in his interest, but we venture the assertion that no one will have a finer looking or better club than General Hastings, of Bellefonte, and they will see that he is nominated.

A Confidence Game.

A few particulars of an attempted "confidence game" swindle has lately come to light and we give them as follows, omitting the name of the interested party: It appears that a stranger came to the farmer and represented himself as being in search of a good farm which he desired to buy. The farmer, who by the way owns several farms, agreed to drive him to his several landed possessions that he might see them.

They started toward State College and out about Shiloh church met a man, apparently a tramp, who stopped them and engaged in conversation. The tramp was idly shuffling a pack of cards and dealing the three monte game. In the course of time he singled out a card and asked if they could pick it out after he had thrown them. The stranger picked the card out. The tramp again shuffled and then offered to bet $5,000 that the man could not do it again. The stranger, hesitatingly, pulled out a card and it proved to be the right one. He then demanded his $5,000 and, what was his apparent surprise, to see the tramp haul out a large roll of bills and pay over the required amount.

The cards were shuffled again nd this time the farmer was asked to bet. Thinking he could name the card he said he would only he didn't have that amount of money with him but if they would go along to Bellefonte he could get the money. After a little hesitating they finally consented and all came to Bellefonte. The farmer procured a note, filled it in for $3,000, secured the endorsement of two good citizens of this place, then went to the bank and had it discounted.

He met the other two at the corner of Spring and Logan Streets. The stranger being told that he had only $3,000 generously offered to loan him the other $2,000 if he would go along to the hotel with him. After a few minutes conversation they agreed to meet at the hotel at a certain time and all separated. By this time the farmer began to suspect something wrong and, instead of going to the hotel he went to the bank, lifted the note, had the endorsers scratch their names off, tore his own off and then got in his buggy and drove home He now says that he was too much excited or he would have had the men arrested. It was a close call for the farmer but luckily he escaped as he did.

A Chance for Bellefonte.

Up at Howard, in Centre county, there is an industry called the fifth wheel manufactory, which was started a couple of years ago, almost by accident, as it were, but which has now grown to such proportions that it employs fifteen men and orders are received from all parts of the country. H. T. Long owns the industry and he is willing to move it if he can have $20,000 of stock taken. He has made a proposition to move it to Bellefonte and locate it in the car works building there, if the Bellefonte capitalists will respond to this amount. He has received flattering offers from the West Branch Land and Improvement company of Lynchburg, Pa., to locate in that city, but states that if Bellefonte will take $20,000 in stock he will establish there the largest fifth wheel manufacturing industry in the United States. We call the attention of the Lock Haven Board of Trade to this matter. Why might not this industry be secured for this city? It is a substantial one and could and would be developed into a great business. If the Bellefonte capitalists do not soon come up to the mark, Lock Haven can secure the prize. We suggest that the Board of Trade send up to Howard a competent committee to examine the industry and report upon the feasibility of its removal to this city.—L H. Democrat.

From the above it is very evident that the present owners prefer Bellefonte as the future location of their plant providing the proper inducement is extended them. Under prevailing circumstances would it not be well for the proper persons to investigate the business and if it will prove beneficial to the place, go to work and secure it for Bellefonte.

Council's Doings.

There were no communications—verbal or written—of any importance.

Street committee reported East Bishop and Logan streets repaired with cinder.

Council gave the Undine Hose Company permission to take their carriage to Williamsport on the Fourth of July.

The Nuisance committee suggested the erection of a sewer from Allegheny street and thence down Spring, to connect with sewer on Lamb street to remedy nuisance complained of with regard to sewer on property occupied by L. T. Munson. The suggestion was referred to Street committee and borough engineer for investigation and report. The Nuisance committee also reported as a nuisance the photograph car situated on Penn street, near Bishop, and the same was referred to Street committee with power to act.

After the passage of the usual quota of bills council adjourned.

—The Altoona Times says: "The old soldiers of Pennsylvania are not going to forget the grand old "War Governor," of Bellefonte. He is to be a prominent figure at the meeting to be held at Valley Forge on Thursday. He who is not forgotten by the soldiers may well be remembered by the citizens of the republic, and the renoun of the grand old general will ever live in the hearts of the patriotic people of Pennsylvania.' Yes, and outside the boundaries of this grand old commonwealth the reputation and past records of our own and only Governor Curtin shine as one of the brightest pages in American history.

—There has not, thus far, been any marked falling off in the consumption of ice cream. The girls seem to love it more than ever, as though its increased cost added to its toothsomeness. The fact is, the girls and women folk generally devoted to creams and ices that he must be poor and unappreciative lover or husband who can resist their quiet, but none the less expressive, appeals for a treat. The ice cream business will flourish, depend upon it, even though the price of ice should double the present figures and creams sympathize with it in the advance.

—Orders for excursion tickets at the rate of 1½ cents a mile can be procured by all persons who wish to attend the State Convention on June 25. This does not apply to the members of the "Centre County Hastings Club" as they will have their tickets furnished by the treasurer of the club along with their outfit These orders are in the hands of Jno. M. Dale Esq., and any person having one of them can, upon presenting it to the ticket agent at any R. R. office purchase a ticket at the above rate to Harrisburg & return. All members of the "Hastings Club" are urged to call on the treasurers of the club and make payment of the club fee of $3.50 at once. The hats, and canes &c will arrive to-day, and can be had upon applying to the treasurer of the club, Mr. W. I Fleming.

—While D. Bates Bell and Wilbur F. Harris were out driving on Monday morning their horse became frightened and ran away. Mr. Bell was thrown from the buggy, receiving several slight cuts and bruises. Wilbur was not so unfortunate and, retaining his seat in the buggy, succeeded in stopping the run a way animal.

SNOW SHOE BREEZES.

Misses Lizzie Roth, Clara Neff, Gertie Lucas, Della Budinger, and Mr. Meese, Gunsallus, made a very pleasant call on Miss Lena Roth's school at Fountain, on Monday afternoon.

Abe Robinson says it is almost an impossibility for him to keep a hired girl, as he has had about a dozen different girls in the last two years and nearly every one of them got a husband soon after being in his employ. He says he will pay any industrious young woman good wages and give her the best opportunity in Centre county for obtaining a husband, the Bellefonte telephone exchange not excepted.

Mr. Jenkin Davids, one of the bookkeepers in the Lehigh valley office, went to Wilkesbarre a few weeks ago and attached unto himself a better half. They have returned here and gone to housekeeping in one of the company's houses on Fourth street.

—It is surprising how many democrats there are that aspire to office. In some cases whole families are out and it is reported that every democrat in one of the Philipsburg Wards would like to have an office. There seems to be nothing like being ready and willing.

Mr. Resides is an old soldier—one of the true blue—as he left an arm on some southern battlefield. He does not regret it in the least, however, but he now does think that Congress should remember the "brave boys." Mr. R. says he has a relic, dug out of the ground near his home, in the shape of an Indian pipe-of-peace and hatchet combined. It is needless to say the gentleman prizes it very highly.

THAT CHORAL SERVICE.

The Choir of the Reformed Church Entertains a Large Audience.

On Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock the Reformed church was crowded with persons eager to hear the singing to be rendered by the choir. Many members of other churches were to be seen among the large audience. Promptly at the appointed time every member of the choir was in his or her place and Mr. W. T. Meyer, the director and organist took his place at the instrument and opened the service with an instrumental voluntary.

The choir is composed of the following ladies and gentlemen: Mrs. J. C. Meyer, Misses Lulu Harper, Jennie Pontius, Sadie Walkey, Berenice and Aurora Moore, Jennie and Grace Lukenbach, and Messrs. W. T. and J. C. Meyer, A. Lukenbach and H. B. Pontius.

The first selection was an anthem "Praise the Lord," and was rendered in a style befitting professional singers. Rev. Noll then invoked divine blessing after which "Sanctus, Holy, Holy," was sung by the choir.

And so on the entire programme as given in Saturday's paper, with the exception of one selection was rendered. Among the choicest selections rendered was "Sanctus—Holy, Holy," by the choir; a trio, by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. and W. T. Meyer; a duet by Miss Harper and Mr. Luckenbach; another duet by Mrs. Meyer and Miss Harper, and the "Te Deum," by the choir. The programme of music was quite long and it was 9 o'clock when the service ended.

Since Mr. W. T. Meyer has taken charge of the choir its improvement has been wonderful and it now stands second to no church choir in Bellefonte. All the members are to be complimented on their proficiency while Mrs. Meyer Misses Harper and Lukenback and Mr. J. C. Meyer are deserving of special mention in the parts they sang on Sunday evening. On the whole the choir have reason to feel proud—excuse the term—of their present standing; and all are ready and willing to concede that to no one belongs greater credit than to Mr W. T. Meyer, for the present musical ability of the organization.
